The King's gift of gem-encrusted necklace may net family $1M!

Thank you, Elvis!

Fifteen years ago Elvis gave Rhonda Boler a gift of love — and now that gift is going to help her when she's down and out.

The King took a beautiful gem-encrusted necklace from his neck and placed it around the neck of Rhonda, who was then only 5 years old. Now Rhonda has decided to put the precious memento up for worldwide auction in the hope it can save her family from their financial troubles.

By SUSAN JIMISON

"We're having a rough time financially, so I'm forced to sell it," the Monroe, La., mom told The NEWS. "It's hard to part with it because it has always been a special bond with Elvis for me.

"But I have a baby to support and my father hasn't had a real job in ages. I feel that this was a gift from Elvis to get us through these hard times."

Rhonda's contact with the rock and roll great took place during a concert The King gave in the Monroe Civic Center in 1974. Elvis was going through his divorce from Priscilla and he hadn't seen his daughter Lisa Marie for some time. When he saw dark-haired Rhonda standing shyly near the stage, he ordered his bodyguards to bring the child to him.

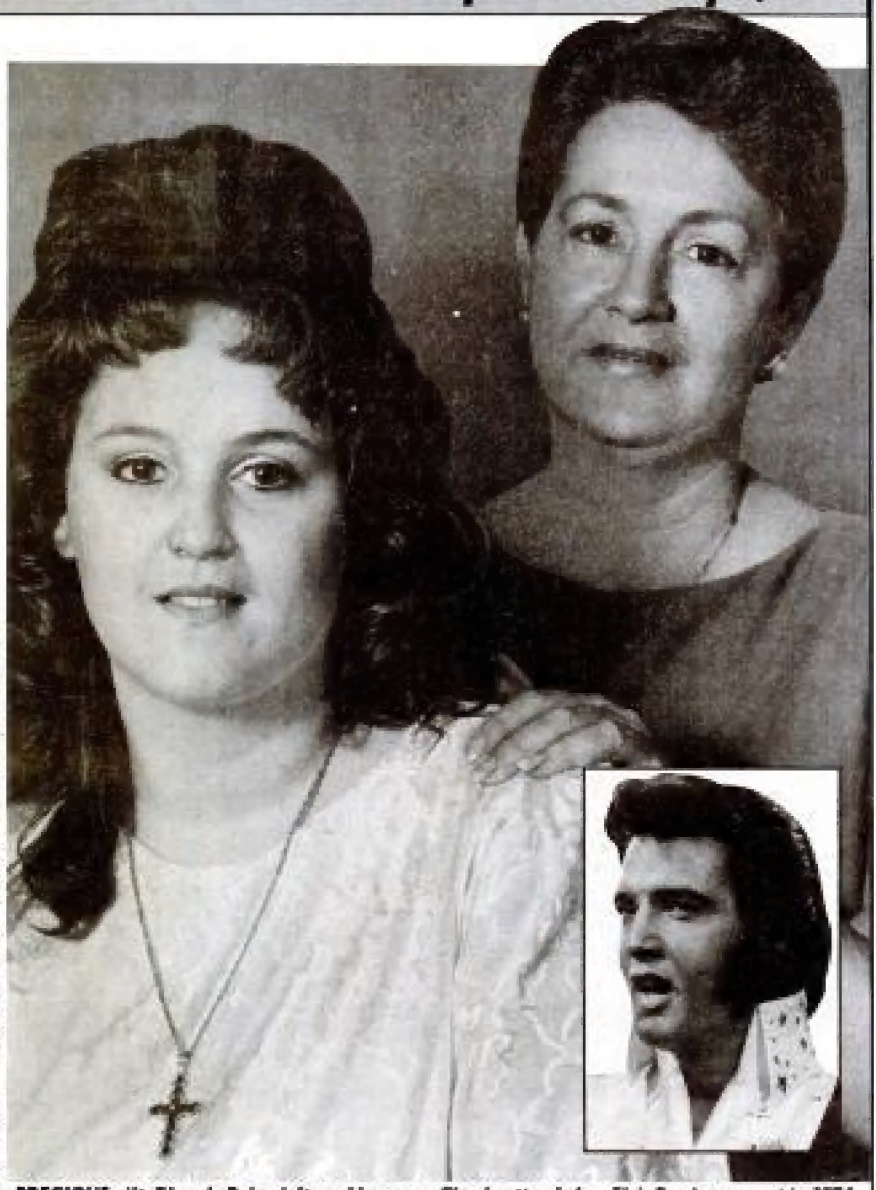
As little Rhonda stood on the stage with her idol, Elvis sang her a tender love song, gently tied a scarf around her neck, and kissed her on the cheek.

"Then he passed me down to his guard," Rhonda recalled. "It was at that moment some madwoman rushed down the aisle and ripped the scarf from me.

"Elvis heard the commotion, walked back across the stage, took off his necklace and put it around me. He said to me, 'This is yours, baby, and nobody can take it away from you.'"

Through the years, Rhonda and her mother have treasured the necklace, a 32-inch chain with a gold cross pendant encrusted with tourmaline stones and a small diamond. They never wore it, but kept it safely stored.

Today, experts believe the Elvis memento — worn by The King for 14 years — could bring the family a small fortune. They have already turned down an offer of $100,000 and hope to get as much as $1 million or more from it.



PRECIOUS gift: Rhonda Boler, left, and her mom Glenda attended an Elvis Presley concert in 1974. The King walked across the stage and gave Rhonda this bejeweled cross and necklace.

Ugh! Ducklings out for a walk fall into sewer!

Ten little ducklings followed their mommy on a morning stroll — and the dumb mother duck led them right into a sewer.

The baby ducks jumped off a curb and fell through a sewer grate as their mama kept on waddling.

"It was just kerplunk, kerplunk. They stepped right off the curb into the hole," said passerby Erie Owen.

Rescuers in Hales Corners, Wis., got the ducklings out. Cops had to use a long-handled fishing net to get the mother duck, who was darting about traffic looking for her babies.

Woman watching 'Hamlet' stabbed by actor's dagger

Triumph of the MERMAID BABY

BEFORE THE OPERATION: Tiffany Yorks' legs were joined like the mermaids of ancient legend.

By SUSAN JIMISON

Adorable little Tiffany Yorks used to be a real-life mermaid, but she's not anymore thanks to miracle surgery.

The 1-year-old Tampa, Fla., tot was born with her legs joined — like the mythical sea creature — because of a rare syndrome seen in only one out of 100,000 babies. Doctors didn't expect her to survive but she became the first such child ever to live beyond birth — and has undergone successful surgery to separate her legs.

"I've been told she's a little miracle," said the baby's mom, Linda Yorks, 29. "She's my first and only child, so I don't have much to go on. I know she's doing terrific."

Tiffany was born in 1988 with a condition called sirenomelia or "mermaid syndrome."

Her legs were connected from hips to heel, although she has separate thigh and shin bones and separate muscles for each leg.

The baby was brought to Shriners' Hospital in Tampa when she was just 25 days old.

Since then she has undergone five operations and come through with flying colors. Because she is the first sirenomelia baby ever to survive her birth defects, surgeons had to invent a procedure for separating her legs as they went along.

"She was missing the lower part of her bladder and part of her bowel," said Dr. Mutaz Habal, Tiffany's plastic surgeon. "She has heart and kidney abnormalities, too.

"Most kids with this defect die from their abnormalities, but Tiffany's deformities were mild and did not kill her. That's what makes her so special."

In August, doctors introduced Tiffany in a triumphant press conference in which they predicted the pretty brunette tot will have a perfectly normal life.

"I was worried that Tiffany might not make it when she was first born," said Linda Yorks. "When I wrote away for information about sirenomelia, they only sent me autopsy reports. I thank the Shriners' Hospital for all they've done for Tiffany."

In the next few years, Tiffany will probably undergo more surgery to repair her foot and spine.

Surgical miracle separates brave little girl's fused legs

'She's doing terrific,' says mom

JUBILANT mom, Linda Yorks, hugs Tiffany — one leg still bandaged — after the successful surgery. Her daughter beat the odds to survive the usually fatal affliction called sirenomelia.

5 die in manure pit

Five farmers died tragically when they fell into a manure pit and were overcome by poisonous gas.

The Menominee, Mich., men — aged 18 to 60 — were found in a 6-foot-deep pit on the dairy farm where they died from inhaling methane gas. "They slipped in while cleaning the pit," said Dr. Paul Haupt, county medical examiner.

Shocked cops charge:

Dad & sis plotted to hide murdered gal's corpse in a new freezer!

FAT Anna was too much for them to take, so sister Carol and dad Valentine (both shown below in cuffs) tried to bump the human blimp off, say cops.

360-LB. gal was destined for the freezer, but the Kwiatkowskis' bizarre plot was cooled off when hefty Anna refused to die.

But 360-lb. 'battle-axe' refused to die

By PETE COOKE

A 360-pound woman miraculously survived being shot twice in the head after her father and sister decided she was too bitchy to live with anymore, cops said.

Anna Kwiatkowski, 34, was hospitalized in serious condition following the shooting that occurred in the home she shared with her father and sister in Westland, Mich.

Lt. John Reddy said Anna was taking an afternoon nap when her 78-year-old father, Valentine, shot her twice in the head with a .32-caliber pistol at point-blank range.

"The victim is very overweight and very overbearing," Lt. Reddy said. "Her father and sister just got tired of putting up with her nagging and decided to kill her."

The day before the shooting Kwiatkowski and his older daughter, Carol, 43, bought a freezer to store the younger woman's body in.

"They went down to an appliance store and bought a big freezer to put her body in," Lt. Reddy said. "I don't know how they thought they were going 360 pounds." Cops said Valentine and Carol went shopping for a "large freezer" in which they planned to stash Anna's body.

The idea to hide the corpse in a freezer came from publicity about the case of Leonard Tyburski, a Detroit man convicted of killing his wife in 1985 and keeping her body in a freezer in the basement for 3½ years, authorities said.

Valentine and Carol told hospital workers about the freezer and even handed over a receipt for the new appliance.

"We have a great deal of interest in pursuing this purchase," said Detective Sgt. Jerry Wright. "It is an important part of the picture."

The plans to do away with Anna failed when she survived two bullet wounds to the head. around a couple of hours for her to die," Lt. Reddy said. "When she still wasn't dead two hours after the shooting, they decided that since the Lord hadn't taken her, they'd take her to the hospital."

The victim was able to walk to the family car for the trip to the hospital, then walked into the emergency room.

Anna was placed in the intensive care unit at a hospital in Ann Arbor with the bullets still lodged in her head.

Police said Valentine and Carol told hospital employees that they tried to kill Anna because they could no longer afford to pay the medical bills stemming from her obesity and asthma.

The father and daughter were both jailed on charges of attempted murder.

Drug-sniffing dog finds 286 smuggled tarantulas!

A man was caught trying to smuggle 286 tarantulas into the U.S. from Mexico by a drug-sniffing dog.

"The U.S. Customs agent brought the dog up to my van, but there has never been any marijuana even smoked in it, so I wasn't worried," said Philippe DeGain of Ann Arbor, Mich. "But the dog overdid it and became interested in the animals I had in the car," he said.

DeGain's secret cargo also included 115 Mexican spiny tail iguanas and five snakes. He didn't have the necessary permits to export the spiders and reptiles, authorities said.

Psychic doctor heals dying kids with his eyes!

By JED DUVAL

A psychic doctor miraculously healed 38 doomed children in the cancer ward of a hospital — in a single day!

And he did it without hospital privileges, drugs or a single medical instrument. Officials said the mystery physician cured the children by gazing into their eyes.

Mystery man works miracle on 38 children in a cancer ward

"He lied about his credentials to gain entry to the hospital, made rounds and vanished," said Dr. Mario Dominguez, chief of staff at Olivenza Children's Hospital in Olivenza, Spain.

"We were terrified when we learned what he had done and worked round the clock for two days interviewing and conducting tests on the children.

"When all was said and done, it was clear this 'doctor' didn't lay hands on a single child — he merely gazed into their eyes."

Incredibly, 22 of the terminally ill kids showed no trace of cancer two weeks after the mysterious medicine man's visit to the hospital. Sixteen were diagnosed as having gone into remission, Dr. Dominguez said.

"To say that he performed a miracle doesn't begin to describe what has happened," the doctor continued. "The best medical minds in Spain equipped with state-of-the-art equipment and the finest drugs and therapies available could do nothing for these children.

"And yet he banished the cancer that was killing them with less effort than it takes to wave a feather. We have no explanation for it — and I don't think we ever will."

Little Carlotta de Salegut, 5, was dying of leukemia when the mystery doctor came — and went.

"He was a very nice man and he made me all right," said Carlotta, who has since been released from the hospital.

"He looked at me and smiled and said I could go home to my mother soon.

"He said I was beautiful even without my hair, and he said he loved me."

Dr. Julio Carrascal, chief psychiatrist at the hospital, believes the mystery doctor established an amazing psychic link with the children, then set the healing power of their minds against the deadly cancers.

"It's not at all unlike what faith healers around the world do every day," said Dr. Carrascal.

"The difference is that this man managed to do it without invoking a supreme being.

"From what we can see, he cured 38 cancer-doomed kids with nothing but his mind."

Authorities have failed in every attempt to find the mystery doctor, leading to speculation by some that he comes from outer space — or beyond.

"No human being could have done what he did," said Renee de Salegut, Carlotta's mother. "He gave our children back to us when nobody else could.

"If that's not the work of an alien, or a god, then I don't know. I just don't know . . ."

She's all tressed up!

Beautician Martha Hayes is tressed to kill in a classy, short-sleeved shift — made entirely of human hair. The clever seamstress collected material for the bizarre garment from the hair-weaving studio she runs in Fayetteville, S.C. She says more than a dozen people have offered her thousands of dollars for the hairy outfit, but she wants it to go into a museum so others can admire her handiwork when she's gone. "Everybody wants to try it on," Martha told reporters. "It makes you feel so feminine."

Armed troops sent into jungle after bloody massacre!

CANNIBALS PIG OUT ON MISSIONARIES

Squads of heavily armed troops with shoot-to-kill orders scoured the steamy jungles of Borneo for a fiendish band of savages who murdered 14 French missionaries — then ate their roasted corpses in a week-long cannibalistic orgy!

The unholy slaughter and the ghastly feast that followed were witnessed by bush pilot Ian Chapman, who was ferrying in supplies to the missionary base camp on a spur of the Sampuit River.

The 43-year-old pilot barely managed to save his own neck in a footrace with the gorged savages who discovered him hiding near their village.

Chapman flew to Benjarmasin and reported the shocking slaughter to government authorities who immediately dispatched a platoon of troops to the area.

"I'm damn lucky I got out of there with my own hide intact," Chapman said.

"And I can tell you I never prayed so hard in my life as I did when I was cranking that engine. I kept saying, 'Baby, you've never let me down before. Don't do it now.'

"Thank God, it didn't. The engine started and I got out of there just in the nick of time. I counted 16 arrow holes in the fuselage."

Chapman estimates he arrived at the missionary camp about three days after the cannibal attack on the unarmed group of 10 men and four women.

"The camp was deserted, but it was plain to see what had happened. The missionaries had been attacked and dragged off into the jungle.

"Any dummy could have followed the trail they left and, like a dummy, I followed it. I reached the cannibal village at dusk.

"The missionaries were tied together in a group. There were only seven of them left. All I had was a revolver and there were about 30 savages. There wasn't a damn thing I could do except become a dead hero. It wasn't long before the captives were dragged off, kicking and screaming, but utterly helpless. They were taken to a clearing where the savages were sitting in a circle, chanting and moaning.

"They were held down with their heads over a log and, swish, swish, swish! A big savage lopped off their heads.

"I could see the blood gush like a fountain and headless bodies jerking around on the ground. It made me sick."

The burly New Zealander said he watched in horror as the corpses were stripped naked, then skewered on wooden spits over a fire.

"It was very dark and I had to stay there in hiding all night with the stench of burning human flesh making my guts churn. And by the light of the fire, I could see those fiends eating their victims."

Chapman said at sunrise he started to move out but was spotted by one of the cannibals.

His cry of warning roused the rest of the horde and, in a flash, they were after him.

"I ran as hard and as fast as I could," he said. "Every now and then I snapped a shot off at them and that slowed them.

"When I reached the river I waded out to my plane and climbed in with spears and arrows flying all around me. When that engine started, I was the happiest man alive."

I'VE GOT IT ALL WITH T/H/C™!"

NEWS employee Miles Newton unloads some of the hundreds of mailbags full of readers' letters supporting Colonel North.

35,000 NEWS readers say:

PARDON OLLIE!

A mind-blowing 35,000 NEWS readers agree that Col. Oliver North deserves a pardon from President George Bush — and to prove it they signed a petition that columnist Ed Anger is sending to the White House!

The avalanche of mail and support for Col. North arrived at the NEWS following an Ed Anger column headlined: Don't Ban Ollie from the Oval Office!

In the column Ed said a federal judge who convicted Col. North on a felony charge was "stupid."

He went on to say that President Bush should pardon Col. North so that he can run for the presidency in 1992 — something the ex-Marine won't be able to do if the felony conviction sticks.

A sampling of letters that Ed received along with signatures calling for Col. North's pardon indicates how strongly some NEWS readers feel.

L.H. of Hicksville, N.Y., wrote: "Ollie belongs in the Oval Office."

"Ed, you're 100 percent right about Col. North," wrote J.G. from Topeka, Kans. "He should be pardoned and elected president of our fair land.

"If anyone can salvage what good is left in this country, he can."

T.C. of Portland, Maine, wrote: "Ollie is a true American hero. He deserves a pardon and the opportunity to run for the presidency of the United States with you, Ed, as his vice president.

"I'm for a North-Anger ticket. It would be unbeatable. Together you fine gentlemen could get this great country away from the wimps and the liberals and back on the right track."

Ed Anger and the NEWS have forwarded letters of support for Col. North as well as the petition asking President Bush to pardon Col. North to the White House.

Said Ed: "The ball, Mr. President, is in your court."

Mother Nature's cures right out of the kitchen

Folk remedies that really work!

You don't need fancy specialists and expensive drugs to help you when you're sick — because simple folk remedies will cure what ails you.

That's the amazing conclusion of Dr. Ingrid Sherman, author of a book on folk medicine called Natural Remedies.

She says that inexpensive treatments that use common foods and household products will cure nearly every condition known to man.

"These simple, natural remedies will contribute toward good health, prevent illness and promote longevity," Dr. Sherman said. "And no matter how rich or poor you are, you'll be able to benefit from them."

FORGET the expensive skin creams. Just eat mild onions.

● Arthritis: Hot and cold water bath for hands and feet twice a day. Add two tablespoons of Epsom salts to the water, and also dip a towel into the hot solution and wrap around aching joints.

● Beauty treatment: Apply a paste mixed from sea salt and water. Let stay on for 15 minutes, then wash off.

● Bladder trouble: Drink apple cider or eat plenty of fresh apples.

● Poor blood circulation: Put your feet up every so often for better circulation. Take simple exercises and massage feet every so often for one minute. Take vitamin B-12 daily.

● Excessive bleeding: Dip sterile cotton into hot water, put on wound and then press very hard.

● Bruises: Apply a slice of raw potato.

● Burns: Apply ice water, then honey.

Corpse of man nuked in 1961 is still 'hot'

By MAC HUNTER

The radioactive body of a man who was killed in a nuclear power plant accident in 1961 is still encased in lead, steel and concrete to keep it from contaminating the cemetery it's buried in!

Richard Legg was exposed to a lethal dose of radiation at the Idaho National Engineering Laboratory in Idaho Falls on Jan. 3, 1961.

Attempts to decontaminate the 28-year-old man's body were unsuccessful. Doctors who performed autopsies and an undertaker had to work behind lead screens to protect themselves from the radioactive corpse.

Organs that were removed for analysis were buried in a nuclear waste dump. Legg's body was actually wrapped in lead blankets, shoved into a steel vault and covered with a 10-foot block of concrete to contain the radiation when it was laid to rest at Kingston Cemetery in Kingston, Mich.

The radioactivity will eventually dissipate. But even now, 28 years after Legg died, the body remains dangerous, officials say.

"The radioactive material will decay," said John Walsh, spokesman for the Idaho lab where Legg was killed.

"Meanwhile, with the lead lining, the vault and concrete there is no problem with

MAKE ANYONE DO ANYTHING YOU MENTALLY COMMAND— WITH YOUR MIND ALONE!

Now! Command...control...dominate anyone you choose with the power of your mind—and your mind alone. Say nothing. Yet, miraculously see people—even perfect strangers—do exactly what you silently command them to do. Willingly...cheerfully...and quickly!

You can do it...because you have unknowingly done it your entire life. Accept the proposal offered to you for a limited time in this announcement—and I'll prove it to you!

I would be skeptical, if I read an ad like this. But I'd be highly intrigued as you are now.

Having the ability to master others is probably your secret wish. One which you believe could never come true.

Well, think again! Your secret wish is about to be granted. Very shortly, you are going to demonstrate that fact with any person you choose. On this exciting occasion, you are going to project a thought command to that individual. Not one word will be uttered by you...

YET THAT PERSON IS GOING TO FOLLOW YOUR SILENT COMMAND TO THE LETTER...WITHOUT EVER KNOWING THAT YOU GAVE THE ORDER!

Only you will know why he or she is acting as your submissive slave. Unsuspectingly doing exactly as you direct!

Your next test will be even more unbelievable! You'll command not just one but four or five people. This time, you'll mentally project a thought command to this entire group.

AGAIN, WONDROUSLY, THAT ENTIRE GROUP IS GOING TO PERFORM YOUR SILENT COMMAND EXACTLY AS YOU WILLED IT!

Again, they will have absolutely no idea whatsoever that their seemingly voluntary actions are really dictated by you. Why should they? You said nothing, made no gestures. You stated your wishes only one way—mentally!

Yet, you'll top even these astounding results. In the months and years to come, you are going to intensify your mystic ability to dominate others in ways that may bring you thousands of extra dollars...the love of someone you deeply desire...status and position you've considered unattainable—until today!

- If you sell, the toughest prospect will be putty in your hands. The urge to sign a sales contract on your terms—will be irresistible.
- In business situations, your ideas will be the ones enthusiastically approved by the "top" brass—just as if you wore the boss' hat.
- In your private life, you will capture the affection of anyone you fancy—even at first sight.
- At social gatherings, you will be regarded as the leader—the one who makes decisions which must be unquestionably obeyed at once!

Yes, wherever you go, whatever you do, everyone you meet will come under your silent control. Do with them as you will!

Does all this sound impossible? Not only hard to believe, but hard to achieve?

Then get set for a super-surprise!

YOU WILL BELIEVE IT...AND YOU WILL ACHIEVE IT!

Stop and think for a moment. Skeptics were once dead-certain that the earth was flat. Man reach the Moon? Impossible!

You and I know differently. Yesteryear's "never-happens" are stark realities today. So if you still are a skeptic, I'm more than willing to give you the opportunity to make a liar out of me.

Along with the chance to prove me wrong, I'll also give you the "risk-free" chance to prove I'm right...plus a free gift. Here's my proposal.

I am now releasing an unusual manual on a subject which has fascinated mankind for ages. That subject is parapsychology.

It deals with the power of the mind to project thought and communicate with others, outside the body, using none of the five senses.

In plain words, this extraordinary technique helps you command, control, and dominate people solely with your mind.

Strangely enough, you may have already done so without ever realizing it through your own unconscious, native-born ability. Now, for the very first time, you can perform it consciously, upon demand!

I call this technique SUCCESP—the science of extra-sensory persuasion. Properly used, it permits your thoughts to influence one person or many!

TRY IT WITHOUT RISK. PAY ONLY IF IT WORKS FOR YOU!

Before you actually buy my SUCCESP manual for ten dollars, I want you to try it out as my guest for 31 days. During this free trial, you won't be on the hook for one cent. Because I promise not to cash your check or money order for at least 31 days after I've sent it to you.

Try this awesome technique at home, at work—anywhere! Convince yourself beyond the shadow of a doubt that SUCCESP really works. That you can conquer anyone!

If you are not positively pleased for any reason, just return the manual to me. I'll speed back your check or money order—uncashed.

Still skeptical? OK, post-date your check for 31 days from today. That way I can't possibly deposit it even if I wanted to. You're protected 100%!

Whatever happens, I want you to keep the FREE Bonus Monograph Gift. It's yours merely for making this trial—and making yourself the master over others.

Just mail the coupon and I'll prove it to you. At my risk, not yours!

Top horoscope writer makes shocking discovery!

YOUR ASTROLOGICAL SIGN CAN KILL YOU!

Astrology buffs may want to dive for cover when they hear the latest news from stargazer Skip Fickling. He says your astrological sign can kill you!

The famous Laguna Beach, Calif., astrologer has just completed an exhaustive study of horoscope signs and found that certain signs are more suicide-prone than others.

"We were able to study over a thousand suicide cases from all over the world," said Fickling, who has authored 18 books on astrology. "One quarter of the suicides we studied were Gemini or Cancer people. A person on the cusp between these two signs should be extremely wary of emotional letdowns.

"Another sign to be cautious with is the extremely sensitive Leo. You should never push the Leo or make too many demands. They break easily."

Fickling's studies revealed that the 1,220 suicides were divided among the astrological signs as follows:

Gemini — 157
Cancer — 151
Leo — 126
Pisces — 119
Aquarius — 112
Sagittarius — 108
Aries — 97
Virgo — 88
Scorpio — 79
Taurus — 65
Capricorn — 61
Libra — 59

Not even great movie stars are immune to the influence of the stars, Fickling says.

"Marilyn Monroe, Judy Garland, and Errol Flynn were all self-destructive and they were all Gemini," Fickling told The NEWS.

"I was worried when I worked with Marilyn on the set of The Misfits about her complicated depressions.

"She was using too many pills and mixing them with alcohol.

"She was warned, but it's nearly impossible to change a Gemini's thinking once it has become isolated and dangerously morbid.

"Actor Freddie Prinze was on the cusp of Gemini and Cancer and wound up in violent self-destruction."

TRAGIC Gemini personalities Errol Flynn and Marilyn Monroe.

Marilyn Monroe's ghost is roaming the earth — naked!

Sassy phantom seen by HUNDREDS!

It's really HER, says top psychic

MARILYN Monroe's ghost is raising havoc all over the planet, say stunned eyewitnesses — and a top psychic has confirmed that sightings of Hollywood's stunning sex goddess are real!

Madcap actress Marilyn Monroe has returned to earth as a naughty ghost, frolicking in fountains, streaking through busy streets and dancing across nightclub stages — naked as a jaybird!

Hundreds of folks from Rio to Rome to Tokyo have spotted mischievous Marilyn cavorting in her birthday suit in recent weeks — and a world renowned psychic has confirmed that the sightings are genuine.

"Marilyn is back, there's absolutely no doubt about it," Swedish super psychic Sylvia Lindgren told The NEWS.

"I've been in touch with her spirit for months, and she's been saying how much she wanted to come back to have a little fun and shake some people up. And she's sure doing that."

The nude spook made her first appearance August 15, romping through a fountain in downtown Rome, Italy.

"It was Marilyn Monroe all right, and she didn't have a stitch of clothes on," said British tourist Tony Lucas.

"She was splashing and laughing and having a grand time. Everybody was gawking and pointing, and parents were trying to cover their little kids' eyes.

"Then the police came and she vanished into thin air."

Three days later, the sassy phantom streaked down a bustling Tokyo street with her ample attributes bouncing in the breeze.

"Brakes were screeching and fenders were banging all over the place," recalled shocked cop Hideki Ohhira.

"I reached out to grab her and put a coat around her, and suddenly she was gone — like she just evaporated."

Since then, the playful lady has danced dudless on the stage of a Rio nightclub, stalled traffic on an Amsterdam thoroughfare and raised havoc in a West Berlin restaurant.

"I'm sure she'll be showing up in a lot more places before she's through," said psychic Sylvia.

"She's been having a ball." — Special to Weekly World News.

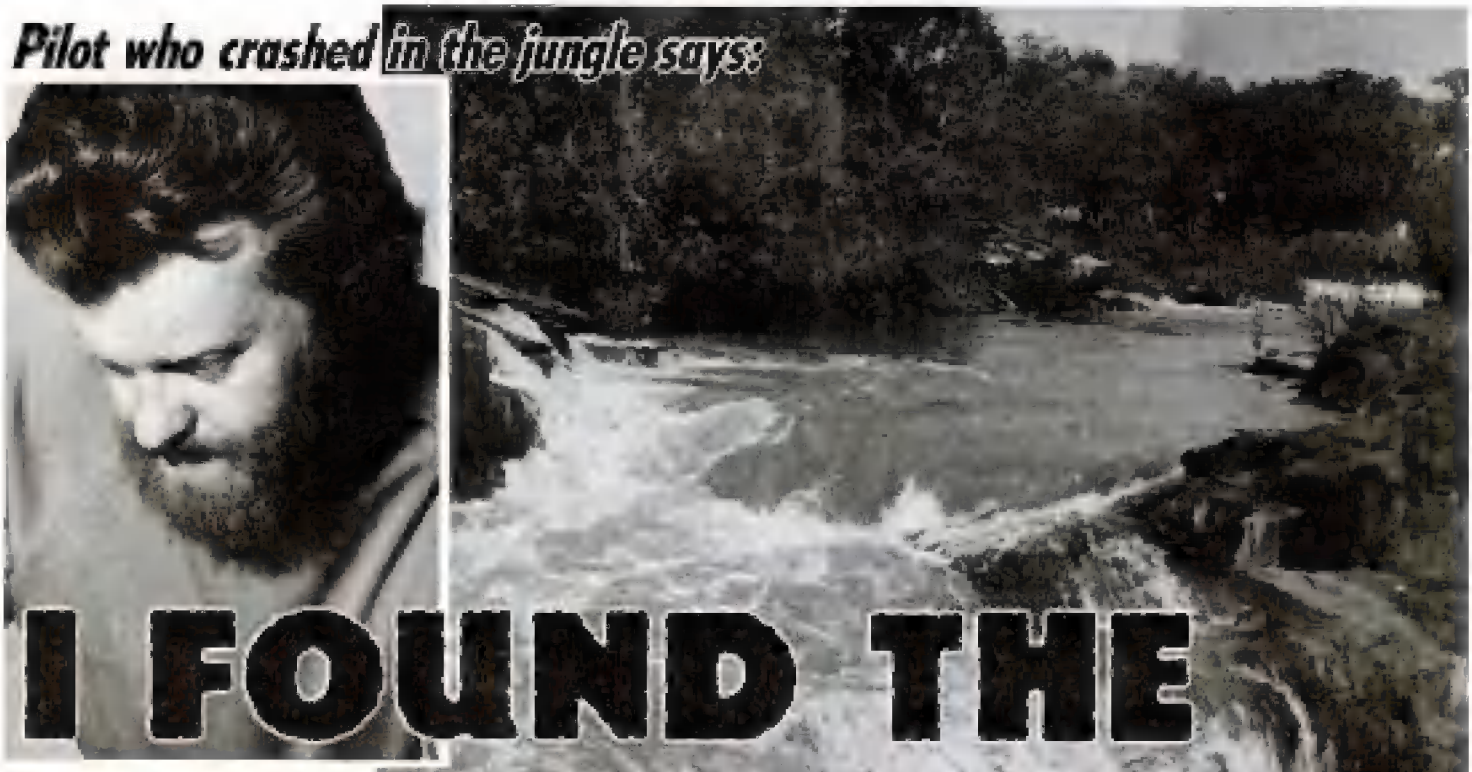
Pilot who crashed in the jungle says:



I FOUND THE SECRET LAND OF ETERNAL YOUTH!

By MILTON ROSS

A plane crash victim lost in the wilds of Brazil six years ago says he discovered a gorgeous Garden of Eden — where everyone lives for 140 years or more!

"I've found it — the land of eternal youth," pilot Pierre Pierot, 35, told reporters after emerging from the heart of the Amazon jungle looking even younger than the day he disappeared.

"These people live seemingly forever and they remain happy, healthy and active their entire lives. This is truly a Shangri-La."

The French pilot discovered the incredible Utopia after his plane crashed on a flight from Lima, Peru, to Rio de Janeiro in 1953.

The father of two was missing and presumed dead until last month, when he stumbled into the village of Porto Esperanca, tattered and tired after a two-month trek through the dense jungle.

"I had always heard of this so-called land of eternal youth, but I thought it was a mere legend until I saw it with my own eyes," said the rugged-bearded drenched in monsoon rains or plagued by scorching heat. It was a paradise of exquisite beauty where flowers created a rainbow of color as far as the eye could see.

"I was tempted to stay there forever, but I missed my family so very, very much that eventually I decided I must find my way back to the world."

Pierot says he doesn't recall how he arrived in the land of beauty and rounded by five or six olive-skinned girls who were hovering over me and nursing me back to health," he said.

"It was like something out of South Pacific — a magnificent valley surrounded by mountains.

"Later, I was brought before the high priest. He told me I had crashed in the land he called Ma-Noa and had been brought to the village. He said I could stay as long as I wanted.

PILOT Pierre Pierot, inset above, says he acts and looks younger than when he crashed in the jungle.

no greed, no hate, no lust — just happiness. And the people possessed astonishing intelligence. They could read, write and speak in several languages."

The dumbfounded pilot said he was skeptical at first of the natives' claims that they'd lived a normal life span in their bizarre village of 140 years.

"But they had no reason to lie," he said. "And after I watched them — and myself — actually looking and feeling younger as the years went by, I knew

Isabelle Martin:

"Here are the 19 foods that cause you to lose weight..."

Everyone who has tried them has lost weight. Proven results.

LOSE WEIGHT! An Amazing Discovery: Negative Calories Now you can lose weight easily, even if you eat too much...

Nutritionists have discovered that certain foods cause you to lose weight. These are foods with negative calories. The more you eat, the more weight you lose.

In a report that you can receive without obligation, you will discover what these foods are, why they cause you to lose weight, and how.

QUESTION: How can certain foods cause you to lose weight?
ANSWER: Experiments have shown that 19 particularly healthful and nutritious foods (some of which are vegetables and fruits) burn more calories than they contribute. So the more you eat, the more you burn off your excess weight. These foods create negative calories: are transformed into energy, not fat.

Q: How is this possible?
A: The power of negative calorie foods is absolute: you'll not even obvious to you when you understand how your body accomplishes fat.

You are born with a certain number of "adipose" cells. These adipose cells swell up and multiply when you take on too much weight. As soon as your metabolism slows down, this allows carbohydrate-based foods to be changed into fat. This fat is stored.

Therefore, you cannot lose weight by draining the fat from the cells.

You can only do this in three ways: eat foods that are rich in fat (burning); intensive exercising; or eating foods with negative calories that burn off the fat and drain it from your cells.

Obviously, it is the last method that is fun and many the easiest because it requires no effort, no deprivation.

Q: How many pounds can you lose per week?
A: If you are more than 20 pounds overweight, you lose an average of five to six pounds in the first week, and three to four pounds in subsequent weeks.

If you are more than 10 pounds overweight, you will lose weight even more quickly. Some people with more than 40 pounds to lose have lost up to 12 pounds in the first week.

Q: Do you have to follow some kind of special diet? Or is it just a question of adding negative calorie foods to your normal diet?
A: You don't have to follow any diet, or change anything in your lifestyle. You can eat pastries, sweets, butter, cake, anything you want.

The only thing you have to do is add negative calorie foods to your normal diet... and watch your pounds and inch of fat disappear.

Q: How many negative calorie foods do I have to add to my normal diet?
A: Just add 25% of your normal diet. But you can exceed that amount because the more negative calorie foods you eat, the more quickly you lose weight.

Q: Will I be able to maintain my ideal weight after losing my excess pounds?
A: Most people who lose weight with diets or pills or other methods quickly gain back the weight they have lost.

But with negative calorie foods, it is different. The only thing you have to do to keep slim is to add negative calorie foods to your normal diet.

Q: What are these negative calorie foods? Where can you get them?
A: All these negative calorie foods are natural foods. There are 19 of them. Among them are fruits, vegetables and other natural foods that you will find in any supermarket or in your garden.

Q: Is there any proof that people have tried negative calorie foods and have really lost weight?
A: Everyone who has added negative calorie foods to their normal diet has lost weight. Here are some excerpts from letters we have received:

"I had tried everything..."

"I have lost 38 pounds. All my life I have suffered from being fat and I had tried everything to lose weight. The negative calorie foods are the only thing that have ever worked for me. I feel like a new woman. My husband also lost 33 pounds. We are delighted to have rediscovered the joy of life that we had long since lost."

Mrs. Chantrier S

"My excess weight melted away..."

"In three weeks, I lost 19 pounds of excess weight. Since then I have not regained that fat. Because I had already tried so many methods and combinations to lose weight, I no longer believed in any of them. But I tried this anyway. Thank heavens! Maybe my experience can be of help to other people."

Miss Peggotty P

"I thought I would be fat all my life..."

"I often dreamed of becoming slim, but nothing I ever tried ever helped me lose weight. Now I have discovered negative calories. I lost 23 pounds in two short weeks and a total of 48 pounds much quicker than I would have dared to hope. My husband told me his weight that I am prettier than I ever have been."

Mrs. Martin S

Q: I have read in a magazine that negative calorie foods not only help you lose weight, but also improve your health. Is that true?
A: Yes. Negative calorie foods were discovered by nutritionist physicians during their search for healthier foods. When you add negative calorie foods to your normal diet, you lose weight but you also lower and normalize your cholesterol rate. This always contributes to your health.

Q: Can I just replace 25% of my normal diet with them?
A: Yes, because that is not really important. The only thing that is important is to absorb at least 25% in negative calorie foods because these are the ones that burn off the excess fat and cause you to lose weight.

Q: *Will it be easy for me

Gun control nuts are anti-American wimps!

I'm madder than a skunk in a perfume factory over this crazy gun control hogwash that's sweeping across our great land like AIDS or some other sicko disease.

Let's face it, there wouldn't be an America in the first place if it weren't for guns.

The late great hero General George Washington and his brave little army wouldn't have stood a snowball's chance in hell against King Georgie's redcoats if we'd had stupid gun control laws back then.

And we wouldn't even have all those great John Wayne movies to watch if those dizzy gun control nuts had made our cowboy heroes lay down their six-shooters.

Then the only people with Colt .45s would have been Billy The Kid and Jesse James and they wouldn't have had anybody to gunfight with.

And I get pig-biting mad when I think that my son Jimbo wouldn't have gotten that Daisy Red Ryder BB gun for his fifth birthday if the commie gun controllers had their way.

I'll have to admit that I did tan his hide when he plunked two sparrows and a bluejay off Grandma Anger's bird feeder. I was mad that he had to shoot the bluejay twice to kill it.

And if this gun control nonsense keeps spreading, it won't be long before our courageous fighting men don't have firearms either.

We'll be a wimpy nation of "disarmed forces."

If it weren't for guns, yours truly wouldn't even be around to write this column.

After I was wounded by a mortar round in March of '53 in the Battle of Pork Chop Hill in Korea, I still managed to keep those screaming commie devils off me by firing away until the barrel of my machine gun damn near melted.

And every time I hear the Star Spangled Banner before a boxing match or football game, the rat-tat-tat of gunfire rings in my ears.

And think how many of those fruitcakes who use pistols to commit suicide would still be roaming our neighborhoods if they couldn't get their hands on anything to blow their brains out!

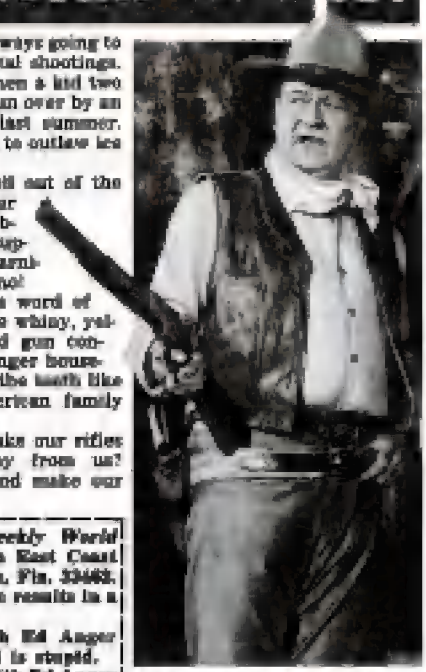
Every single American child should know how to fire both revolver and automatic pistol by age 6 and then graduate to shotguns and even assault weapons for gifted children.

Sure, there are always going to be a few accidental shootings. Accidents like when a kid two blocks over got run over by an ice-cream truck last summer. Are we supposed to outlaw ice cream?

A little girl fell out of the Ferris wheel at our county fair in February. Are we supposed to outlaw carnival rides? Hell, no!

And I've got a word of warning for those whiny, yellow-bellied stupid gun controllers — the Anger household is armed to the teeth like every good American family should be.

You want to take our rifles and pistols away from us? Come on over and make our day!



SUPERHERO John Wayne blasts away at the bad guys in the movie Rio Lobo.

READERS' POLL

Gun control is one of America's hottest issues.

Ed Anger thinks there should be no gun control and that every red-blooded American should be armed.

What do you think?

Please check one answer and mail your reply to Ed Anger Poll, Weekly World News, 800 South East Coast Avenue, Lantana, Fla. 33462. We'll publish the results in a future issue.

☐ I agree with Ed Anger that gun control is stupid.

☐ I disagree with Ed Anger and think guns should be strictly controlled.

Weirdo kills pigeons — so he can swipe their peanuts!

By JACK ALEXANDER

A hungry down-and-out drifter killed seven pigeons in a popular park — so he could steal peanuts tossed to the birds by passersby.

People watched in horror as Eladio Castillo, 65, grabbed the surprised pigeons, wrung their little necks and swiped their peanuts, cops said.

"People were tossing peanuts to the pigeons on Capitol grounds," said Raleigh, N.C., police officer B.H. Mason.

"Castillo would try to get the peanuts before the pigeons did. It beat anything you ever saw . . . a grown man battling pigeons over peanuts," said Officer Mason.

Cops said Castillo got his share of the peanuts, but he wanted the pigeons' share, too. "So he simply caught the birds and killed them with his bare hands," said Officer Mason.

Castillo, who told police his address was "anywhere in Raleigh," said he was homeless and hungry and didn't see anything wrong with what he did.

"But there were plenty of bird lovers in the park who were ready to wring HIS neck," said Officer Mason. "Two of them called a cop, who issued Castillo a citation for killing birds."

Castillo explained he had no money for food. Downtown soup kitchens were closed because it was a Sunday afternoon.

"He couldn't understand why people would throw food to birds instead of giving it to him," said Officer Mason.

"He has a point."

Police said Castillo violated a city ordinance.

"You can't kill a bird inside the city limits no matter how hungry you are," said Officer Mason. "His penalty is up to a judge."

Teenager finally won 9-year battle against the disease

Cured cancer girl killed in wreck

. . . coming home from the hospital!

Little Elisabeth Anzani spent nine years of her short life battling leukemia and finally won — only to die in a car wreck on the way home from the hospital!

Elisabeth Anzani

Now the grief-stricken parents of the 13-year-old girl are recovering in the hospital from the horrifying smashup and trying to make sense of the tragedy.

"Poor Elisabeth," said the Pisitello, Italy, girl's mother, Carmelina. "The doctors saved her from death, but death found her again and took her on her way home from the hospital. It's a tragic joke played by fate."

According to the teen's family and friends, Elisabeth had been diagnosed with leukemia at the age of 4 and spent years in and out of hospitals battling the disease.

But although she was in constant pain and often bald and nauseated from chemotherapy treatments, the courageous child rarely complained.

"She went to school, played with her friends and maintained a normal schedule," said her sister, Monica, 19. "Her only complaint was that she had to stop playing to have her injections.

"She was a courageous girl who faced her illness bravely. We thought after all those years of suffering, she would finally have relief — and now she's dead."

Elisabeth's health had hit a crisis shortly before her death when her leukemia suddenly worsened. Desperate doctors decided her only hope was a bone marrow transplant and Monica donated her marrow for the procedure.

After the surgery, tests revealed that Elisabeth's leukemia was gone for good, and the happy Anzani family prepared to take her home. They picked the little girl up at the hospital and headed by car to their house.

But they never made it. A head-on collision with another car killed Elisabeth and seriously injured her parents.

"They took Elisabeth to a hospital near the accident scene and nurses prepared her for surgery — but she didn't make it," said a close friend of the family.

"It was written in the stars that Elisabeth wasn't supposed to live."

Go ahead and butter up the boss — it pays!

Flattery will get you everywhere in the workplace, so don't be shy about buttering up the boss, says a recent study by experts.

Workers who flatter their bosses get better evaluations and move right up the ladder, said Texas A&M management professor Gerald Ferris.

His conclusions are based on surveys of employees and supervisors.

Flattery works, he said, because of a boss' ego or insecurity or both.

A desire for a promotion often motivates workers to "stroke" the boss.

Phony flattery doesn't go unnoticed by other workers, who usually don't tell the boss for fear of appearing jealous.

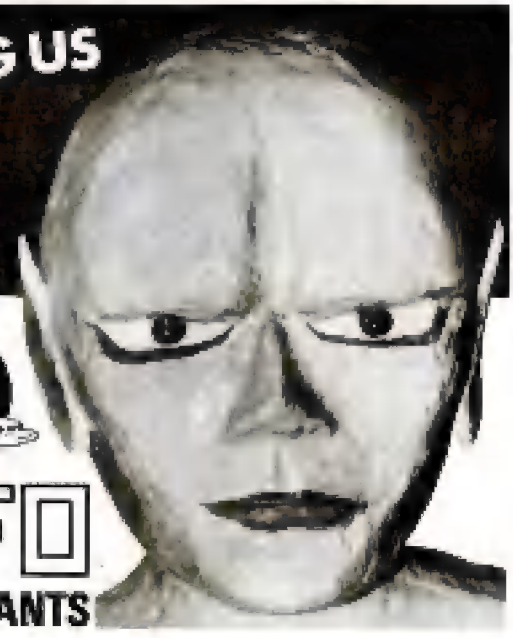
E.T.'s ALIENS AMONG US

Have arrived on earth!

STRANGE CREATURES ROAM OUR PLANET IN THE DEAD OF NIGHT



WARNING!

THE ABDUCTION OF HUMAN BEINGS BY UNKNOWN ALIEN FORCES IS INCREASING AT AN ALARMING RATE. EVIDENCE NOW INDICATES THAT THIS IS AN ALL-TOO-REAL PHENOMENON WHICH WE MAY PERSONALLY — SOONER OR LATER — HAVE TO COME TO GRIPS WITH.

Thousands of individuals from all walks of life — from all over the globe — have seemingly been kidnapped from their homes and cars by an unearthly force. Upon their return they often tell of hair-raising encounters with humanoid beings. Such reports now number in the tens of thousands, and have been the subject of such best selling books as "Communion" and "The Intruders," and will soon be featured in several major motion pictures.

Isn't it time you found out what is really going on?

UFOlogists in many countries have been rigorously checking and documenting these puzzling episodes. Many of the abductions have recently been confirmed by medical and scientific researchers including: the following incidents involving Close Encounters of the Fourth Kind:

UFO OCCUPANTS

- A policeman who says he was examined for three hours by creatures on board a UFO before being returned to his squad car.
- A couple who watched in horror as their four-year-old daughter communicated with aliens in front of their very eyes.
- An entire family whose vehicle was sucked into the air on the Nullebor Plain in Australia.
- A pretty teenager who supplied the aliens with experimental subjects in return for journeys on board a spacecraft.
- A middle-aged woman who says she was actually impregnated by her strange "hosts" with wrap-around eyes who confronted her while being examined inside a diamond-shaped object from another solar system.
- Several dozen individuals have also recently come forward who claim that strange "monitoring" devices or "scanners" have actually been implanted into their brains through which the ETs are able to contact them at any time.

Researcher Jenny Randles has studied such cases for over half a decade. Her approach is rational though the topic lends itself to an extraordinary high degree of strangeness. Indeed, the author of ALIEN ABDUCTIONS — THE MYSTERY SOLVED, offers evidence that something terribly important to the entire human race is going on and is being kept secret by the military and the government.

Timothy Green Beckley, publisher of UFO REVIEW says that this 240 page report offers, "An intriguing new hypothesis that explains a widespread Space Age phenomenon." News columnist Antonio Huneeus describes this work as being "the most incredible presentation, as well as the most complete collection of alien sightings worldwide published anywhere so far." Additional praise has come from the Center for UFO Studies and Jerome Clark of Fate magazine.

Here are the many told reasons you are "unsafe" from alien intruders even if you double lock your doors at night and keep a light burning in your room. Find out. . .

- Why UFO abductions are increasing in number.
- What characteristics abductees have in common with each other.
- What the overall plan is by the UFOnauts — one of peace or global domination?
- If the Earth is being used as a cosmic laboratory and the reason why the aliens are genetically creating a new race of super-beings.

My hubby and his girlfriend want me to raise their baby

Dear Dotti: My husband has been running around on me for 18 years. Not too long ago he got a 20-year-old girlfriend and made her pregnant.

She doesn't want an abortion and she doesn't want to keep the baby because it would be too much trouble for her. My husband agrees with her and says that I should take care of it for her.

I don't want to do this because I have two grown kids and a job.

Also the neighbors might talk about me.

What should I do? — Bothered in Nashville

Dear Bothered: If you take that child into your home you are either the most stupid woman in the world — or you are married to the smoothest-talking man in history.

Tell hubby to hit the road and take his pregnant floozie with him. You have absolutely no responsibility to tend to his ill-begotten child or make life easier for his home-wrecking tramp.

And any divorce court judge in America will cheerfully point out to him his responsibilities to you.

I took a shower & he took a powder

Dear Dotti: Sparks flew the moment David and I set eyes on each other. On our third date we went to a motel. It was wonderful, but what happened afterward has me bewildered and humiliated.

When I was in the bathroom taking a shower, David disappeared. I checked the parking lot and his car was gone.

What should I say if I see him again? Should I give him a call and tell him off? — Wondering in Seattle

Dear Wondering: What's the matter, honey? Dave didn't treat you like a lady?

If you run into your hit-and-run romeo again, tell him that he could have at least hollered, "Goodbye," through the bathroom door.

I wouldn't call him if I were you. A wife could answer the phone.

My boss thinks I'm his slave

Dear Dotti: My boss at work thinks secretaries are nothing but slaves. He yells at me to get him coffee every 10 minutes and even has me come running to pick up things he drops on the floor!

He just laughs when I run to the bathroom crying and the other people in the office think I'm crazy to keep working for the fat slob. What should I do? — Slave in Seattle

Dear Slave: Go into work tomorrow morning and slap the fire out of that pig. If he fires you, slap him again and find another job.

Should Auntie let me wear her andies?

Dear Dotti: My aunt and I always read your column and we've decided to settle this problem by your answer.

First of all, I'm not gay. But I do love wearing certain lingerie.

My aunt always lets me wear panties but today she came home and found me in her slip, bra and stockings. That's all I wanted to wear — no dresses or makeup.

She says I'm a big sissy, but I'm not. Why is it O.K. for me to wear panties and not a slip? I only wear those clothes in the house. Am I a sissy? — Silky in New Orleans

Dear Silky — and Auntie: There is absolutely nothing unusual about a man wearing women's clothing. That includes panties, bras, slips or whatever.

And "sissy" is an understatement for a budding drag queen. You are both losers in this argument. Wear your own clothes, Buster, and let Auntie wear hers.

Dear Cracking Up in Des Moines: Beauty is skin deep but ugly cuts clean to the bone.

Dear Laughing in Kansas City: Mick Jagger is on tour with his band The Rolling Stones. He is not working at Fred's Grocery. And he doesn't speak with a southern accent.

Dear Lady in Chicago: If you can do all that yourself, why do you want a man?

Dotti will answer your letters — and tell it like it is. Just write to her, c/o Weekly World News, 600 South East Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33462.

Ask the Countess

Did my dead dad really go to heaven?

Dear Countess: My father died 18 months ago and I desperately want to know if he went to heaven and is happy. Also, sometimes I'll be sitting in the living room and it's like I can feel Dad's presence in the room with me. What causes this? Can you tell me if the pain I feel over his death will ever ease up? — Pained in Ohio offers readers personal advice based on your horoscope. Write to Countess Sabak, Weekly World News, 600 S. East Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla., 33462. Include your birth date.

COUNTESS SOPHIA SABAK

Dear Pained: Your father is definitely in heaven and happier than ever. You feel his presence because he wants you to know that he will always be with you. If you open your mind and heart, he will tell you that himself.

Dear Countess: I'm a 15-year-old girl with a big problem. I'm in love with a Spanish singer and I want to become a Hispanic soap star. I live in New York and have just won a scholarship to a private high school. But I want to quit school and move to Mexico so I can fall in love with and get into the soaps. My mother is aware of this but she doesn't take me seriously. Should I risk everything and quit school to follow my dream? — Aching in New York

Dear Aching: You have a beautiful voice and I'm sure you will be a star someday, but it won't begin until you finish school. I want you to stay right where you are until you've gotten your education. Then I want you to send me an autographed picture of yourself after you make it big in Hollywood.

Dear Countess: If there's any way you can help me, please do. My sister has been missing for almost two years and nobody, not even the police, have been able to find her. She is 39 years old, with blonde hair and brown eyes. She is very petite and was last seen driving on a Georgia highway in a 1967 green Chevy Impala.

Please answer my letter, Countess, to set my mind at ease. I want to know if my sister is alive, is she O.K.? — Frantic in North Carolina

Dear Frantic: Your sister is alive and well and trying to make sense of her life, which, as you know, had become quite tangled.

I see her making great progress and feel like she'll be in touch with you by Christmas. By the way, she sold the old Chevy for scrap when it broke down.

The Cross on the Door

NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME IN USA

Hundreds of people throughout the world have already witnessed the powers of this unusual cross with protective symbols from centuries passed. It was bestowed to an orthodox monk and preserved in secret until only recently. Its extraordinary powers protect your home from evil. It shows you the way to happiness and to the fulfillment of your needs. It purifies by destroying the negative energies that have been accumulated in your home. It's an incredible story, but it's real and it can change your life!

Now for the first time in the U.S., experience the mysterious powers of a unique and mystical cross.

If you are looking for peace of mind, better health, more money, happiness, love... If you feel abandoned, helpless, a victim of circumstances... If you're tired of suffering and not having what you deserve... If you have been looking for an answer... look for it no more. You've found it!

My business wasn't doing well. I thought I had to close the store. The creditors were after me. I read about the Cross on the Door that always helps and protects, so I put it on the door. Almost over night, new customers started coming in. Yesterday I made $ 188, and it was a normal day. Sometimes I make upto $300 in one day. I had to hire an employee to help me. I tell everybody the Cross on the Door never fails!

B. F., Spain

After 8 months unable to find work, I was desperate. I even thought of stealing in order to feed my kids. Luckily, a friend gave me the Cross on the Door in time. I was no longer tempted to steal and in a few days I found a job that paid me $ 500 a week. The boss really likes me... I am becoming his right hand man! That's why I'll always have the Cross on the Door, and I am grateful that it helped me when I really needed it.

H. B., France

I fell into a horrible depression when my husband left me for a younger woman. I didn't want to leave the house or talk to anyone. I would just sleep and cry myself to sleep again. I turned to the Cross on the Door as a last resort and it didn't let me down. In two weeks I started to see things differently, I accepted an invitation to a party and there I met an engineer. We fell in love and I am very happy. And I owe it all to the Cross on the Door!

S. C., Argentina

Just to think of the operation scared me to death. I am so terrified of surgery. But the doctor told me there was no other solution for my bad back. From the day I put the Cross on the Door to our home, I felt the need to seek a second opinion. After studying the case, my new doctor cured me without an operation and very little medication. It might be coincidence, but I believe it was the Cross on the Door!

E. B., Spain

I was never lucky when I gambled, but it was the only thing I thought could save me. The mortgage was due and I had to find the money any way I could. I used up all my savings and even borrowed, but it wasn't enough. I asked the Cross on the Door to give me a hand and I promised I would never gamble again. It will seem incredible, but I won big! I paid the mortgage, saved my house and I am keeping my promise. I haven't played since. It's the least I could do to show the Cross that I am eternally grateful.

A. D., Argentina

What could I do after my husband left me, alone with three children and a house I couldn't afford. I was so scared I couldn't even think of a solution. But the Cross on the Door gave me serenity and strength. I started a small business selling cosmetics and every day it keeps getting better, giving me the financial security I desperately needed. They were right when they told me the Cross on the Door takes care of your every need and doesn't have a prayer unanswered.

B. N., Brazil

There are some of the people who have seen what the Cross on the Door can do. People like you, who perhaps had given up hope, or thought that evil powers did not exist. For they understood the need to be protected, to have their home and work place free of all negative influences. They took the necessary steps to allow harmony and prosperity to reign.

Once the Cross on the Door is activated, you can immediately experience changes in your life such as:

- You suddenly find it easy to obtain the things you want most.
- More money and everything you need to live well.
- Others' evil thoughts and actions cannot hurt you.
- You no longer fear since you feel protected against evil.
- No more fights or hatred.
- Tensions and negative influences in your home disappear.

THE SECRET OF THE HERMIT

According to tradition, the Cross on the Door is traced back to Abu Demetrios, a hermit orthodox monk who lived centuries ago in Tracia, Greece. Abu Demetrios lived in an uninhabited area, surrounded by wolves and wild life. No one could understand how he managed to have food in abundance and plenty to drink. Or why the wild animals never hurt him. He seemed to be protected from evil. One day before his death, he received a visit from a monk to whom he revealed his secret. Abu Demetrios told him that an angel appeared to him in a dream and said: "If you place this Cross on the Door of your home, you will never be tempted by the devil, you will never lack your daily bread, and all the powers of evil will be rejected."

After his death, the Cross reached a monastery that was plagued with money problems. Ten days later a Russian Czar donated a crown with diamonds and rubies that belonged to his father. Since then, the monastery never lacked anything.

Years passed until one day an antique collector visited the monastery. The monks gave him a copy of the Cross and showed him the way to use it according to the teachings of Abu Demetrios. This man experienced good fortune throughout his life.

Aliens meet monsters from Earth!

SOVIETS BLAST FRIENDLY UFO OUT OF THE SKY!

Outraged experts fear retaliatory attack!

The Soviet Union incinerated an alien starship with a surface-to-air missile in an attack that has been characterized as mindless aggression — and possibly even an act of war!

Dr. Marcel Cavaleri said the Soviets launched the missile from a silo in Siberia and destroyed the starship while it orbited Earth on June 21.

The Russian government angrily denies the allegation. But Dr. Cavaleri quotes highly-placed NATO sources as having confirmed the missile launch — and destruction of the saucer-shaped starship in space.

"The Soviet Union must be tried in the court of world opinion for this mindless act of aggression and war," the Swiss physicist declared at a news conference in Geneva.

"There was absolutely no evidence that the starship was anything but friendly. It had been monitored for days at tracking stations all over the planet without incident.

"It is unbelievable that the Soviets would take it upon themselves to attack. The whole world could be held to blame for the aggression.

By RAGAN DUNN
in Geneva

"Should the extraterrestrials who sent the starship to Earth decide to avenge the attack, every nation and person on this planet will be in peril."

American intelligence sources refused to discuss the incident for the record but privately confirmed Dr. Cavaleri's report.

They said the Soviet missile was launched at 5:05 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time on Wednesday, June 21.

It hit and destroyed the alien starship seven minutes later, at 5:12 a.m., the sources said.

"There was no attempt to establish radio contact with the starship — it was attacked without warning," said Dr. Cavaleri.

"If there were extraterrestrials aboard they never had a chance. The Soviet missile carried a nuclear payload so powerful it actually vaporized the craft."

UFO researchers around the world were outraged by the Soviet action and called on the Russians to acknowledge their mistake.

They also want to broadcast a radio apology into deep space in the hope that the extraterrestrial civilization that sent the starship to Earth will hear it and rule out a retaliatory attack.

"The seriousness of the Soviet action cannot be underestimated," Marcel Koller, president and founder of the Paris-based UFO research group Galaxy, said.

What a bummer!

Mad dog tears off half of mailman's rear end!

Letter carrier Carl Hansen ran into trouble on the first day of his route when a 120-pound Rottweiler bolted out of a house — and bit off half his butt!

Doctors tried to reattach the 28-year-old man's severed right bun but it was so horribly mangled that they gave up hope.

By ERIK ENGBERG

Now the outraged Hansen is suing the owner of the dog as well as the Danish postal service to compensate for "the terrible disfigurement" of his backside and loss of half his behind.

"The postal service should have told me there was a dangerous dog on the route and the owner should have had the animal on a leash or locked in the house," Hansen told newsmen at a press conference in Aalborg, Denmark.

"People seem to think that what happened to me is funny," he added.

"If you think a man who walks with a limp and has to sit at an angle is funny, then go ahead and laugh your head off."

The bizarre drama unfolded when Hansen was hired as a letter carrier and got a rural route. He reportedly delivered letters to 35 homes without incident.

But at the 36th house, the angry Rottweiler charged through a door and knocked Hansen to the ground. The dog ripped a 7x4-inch chunk of muscle and flesh out of the man's buttock before the owner could get him off, reports said.

Under Danish law the owner is liable for damages caused by his dog. Hansen has hired an attorney asking for at least $100,000 from the owner and an equal amount from the postal service.

Neither of them would comment on Hansen's injury or the lawsuit which has been filed against them.

A postal employee who asked that he not be identified said that the rookie postman should have known that vicious dogs go with the letter carrier's job.

"Nobody ever said that delivering the mail was easy," said the postman. "I've been on the job for 12 years and I've been bitten more times than I can count.

"Nobody ever heard me crying about it and they never will."

Ex-police chief charged with raping 6 women!

A former police chief who investigated a series of violent sexual assaults over the past 20 years has been hauled into court — charged with the crimes!

Harry "The Hat" Blackburn, 59, cried like a baby as the charges against him were read in Central Court in Sydney, Australia.

The former cop denied the charges, including six counts of rape, four counts of sexual assault and eight counts of kidnapping.

Prosecutor John Brydon alleged that Blackburn forced couples from cars at knifepoint, locked the men in the trunks and assaulted the women, reports said.

Officials aren't saying what led them to suspect Blackburn.

and it's a good thing he did," said Smith's wife, Gloria. "If it hadn't been for him, we'd have been cut to pieces."

One sliver of glass tore a 7-inch gash in Smith's right knee. Gloria suffered a minor scratch but their 4-year-old twins escaped injury. "Chunks of glass were bouncing off his back like hail off a car hood," said Gloria. "It's a miracle he didn't get cut up worse than he did."

The family was upstairs watching TV during a violent electrical storm in Hamden, Conn., when they decided to unplug the TV and go downstairs.

"As we reached the top of the stairs, it seemed like our house exploded all around us and the roof just flew away," said Gloria.

"Believe me, we were scared to death. The children were crying. It was just awful."

Donald, a former all-state high school football tackle, feared his family might be blown away by the awesome twister and reacted instantly.

Furniture, glass and other debris swirled all around the courageous father for several terrifying minutes as he lay sprawled over his trembling family.

The storm destroyed their home and everything in it. "We'll just have to start all over again," said Gloria. "But we still have each other. That's the important thing."

'This road is HAUNTED'

. . . say spooked cops

IT was as if an unseen hand had grabbed the wheel, said the stunned driver of this car. The tree has since been removed.

POLICE Commissioner Lars Berger is so sure the road is haunted — he's putting up a warning sign!

A dozen mysterious accidents have occurred here in the past 3 years — AND NOBODY KNOWS WHY!

By SCOTTY PAUL

A dozen mysterious auto accidents along a lonely country road since 1986 have led cops to a bizarre conclusion — the road is haunted.

In every single incident, motorists said their cars suddenly veered out of control or stopped as they rounded a dangerous curve about 10 miles outside of Notsudden, Norway.

"It was as if an unseen hand grabbed the steering wheel," said farmer Rolf Ingebrigtsen. "I had absolutely no control."

But that was just the beginning of Ingebrigtsen's ghostly experience — an experience shared by all of the terrified people involved in the accidents.

"I got out of my car and heard what sounded like children giggling," he said. "But the road was clear, with open fields on both sides. There was no one there but me."

Cops scoffed at Ingebrigtsen's crazy story until a week later when Eldinor Pedersen's car careened out of control and plowed into a fence as she rounded the same curve.

"I had a firm grip on the wheel, but the car seemed to have a mind of its own," said Mrs. Pedersen, who was shaken but not injured.

"I heard children laughing . . . a mischievous laugh from the backseat of the car," she said. "I whirled around and looked, but there was no one there."

The laughter didn't stop until she restarted her car and drove away.

Farmer Arne Tallaksen was pulling a wagon with his tractor around the curve when "something or someone" turned off the ignition switch and the tractor stopped.

"Both my hands were on the steering wheel, but the ignition key had been turned off," he told police. "Then I heard the laughter. It was really spooky. I got out of there as fast as I could."

Nine other motorists have reported the same strange circumstances as they rounded the treacherous curve. "Every accident occurred on a Wednesday between noon and 1 p.m.," said Police Commissioner Lars Berger. "Fortunately, no one has been injured mostly because you can't take that curve at more than 15 m.p.h.

"There was nothing mechanically wrong with any of those cars," said Berger. "There is no logical explanation for what dents." Two children died when their parents' car went out of control on the curve three years ago. The accident occurred at 12:30 p.m. on a Wednesday.

"For some ghastly reason those kids are haunting the scene of the crash," he said. "We're putting up a 'ghost crossing' sign to warn motorists. And we're serious about it."

Farmer Tallaksen said he doesn't need a warning sign to keep him off the road. "That's the quickest way to my farm, but I've been going home another way since that happened, even though it means traveling eight miles farther."

Meet the world's richest policemen

Corruption pays so well in Peru's cocaine-producing region that cops are offering bribes to get assigned there!

Graft has become so prodigious in the Huallaga Valley of Peru police officers pay officials to get in on the action, according to a report by Narcotic Governing.

Stressed execs pay big buck$ to wear diapers & get scolded!

Bigwig business executives are shelling out hundreds of dollars apiece to relieve stress — by dressing up in diapers, sucking on pacifiers and slurping down baby food!

The oddball bosses pay $75 a night for a room at an "adult nursery," where they're decked out in baby duds, supplied with rattles and force-fed smashed plums and pabulum while sitting in king-size high chairs.

"These people are under tremendous pressure every day, and this helps relieve the tension," nursery mistress Hazel Jones told reporters in Gillingham, England. "Here, some of the country's most powerful people are treated like babies and don't have to make any decisions. They say it really does wonders for their nerves."

Clever Hazel opened the Rush-a-Bye Baby Club with hubby Ian six months ago — and fretful execs have been beating a path to their door ever since.

Besides corporate bosses, their kinky clientele includes a retired Army colonel, a policeman and a preacher.

"They all feel a little sheepish the first time they pin on a diaper and stick a pacifier in their mouth, but before long they're relaxing and enjoying the new experience," said matronly Hazel, mother of three grown sons. "There's something about feeling helpless that proves very soothing.

"One man likes me to make him eat rice pudding because he hates it. I have to smack his wrist and make him stand in the corner until he promises to finish it all up."

Some weirdo wheeler-dealers spend hours sitting in specially built high chairs, flailing their arms and legs while make-believe moms cram baby food in their mouths and wipe their chins when they drool.

"Sure, it's a little strange," said happy-go-lucky Hazel. "But it works for them, and that's what is important."

DIET DISCOVERY ASTOUNDS SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITY!

In what is being acclaimed a "major breakthrough," a group of European scientists have recently discovered a powerful new weight-loss formula that causes rapid weight loss without unwelcomed dieting or exercise. The discovery was made while researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, were searching for a compound to lower cholesterol. In a test group of people who took the formula, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but doctors were astounded to find that every patient had lost a significant amount of weight!

ACTUALLY SUPPRESSES ABSORPTION OF CALORIES!

Medical researchers quickly discovered that this new formula actually alters the way your body digests food. When taken before mealtime it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, especially those from fats, preventing their absorption. So a significant portion of the ingested calories pass through and out of the digestive system unabsorbed. Your body must burn stored fat to replace these lost (unabsorbed) calories.

CLINICALLY TESTED

Further medical tests of the new formula have been made at another prestigious European University. Results published in the BRITISH JOURNAL OF NUTRITION stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced during the study even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits." This new compound is so powerful, so effective and so relentless in its attack on bulging deposits of fatty tissue that it has virtually eliminated the need for the usual dieting and tiresome exercise routines.

FORMULA PROVEN SAFE

After clinical testing to verify safety, it was formulated into one of the most effective weight-reducing pills of all time. This revolutionary formulation is being marketed in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000™. It is now available without a prescription from Anderson Pharmacals, which holds exclusive North American rights to Cal-Ban 3000™. Cal-Ban 3000™ is derived from a 100% natural plant source and contains no drugs or stimulants.

EAT PLENTY AND KEEP LOSING!

Cal-Ban 3000™ allows you to continue to eat and enjoy plenty of your favorite foods. All you have to do is to remember to take your Cal-Ban 3000™! Your body's fat cells will quickly begin to shrink. You'll be amazed at how fast measurable results can be seen! Some best case histories report losing up to 8 pounds of fat and fluid in the first 72 hours! Dissolving away up to 75 pounds the first week and dropping up to 40 pounds the first month! Others have continued to lose up to 60, 80 and 90 or more pounds.

ACT NOW TO CHANGE YOUR LIFE!

Now you can transform your body into a slender, more youthful figure with ease. You can become the trim, attractive man or woman who is admired by everyone! Some Cal-Ban 3000™ users have reported losing a full dress size in one week...2 dress sizes in 14 days! You'll feel great about yourself when you see how good you look in stylish new clothes! And you will see your social life improve dramatically as you enjoy the self confidence and slender, trim body brings!

37-year-old creep bawls like a baby!

Peeping Tom gets 99 lashes

LECHEROUS Majeed Kisat, bending over a chair, asks as he is flogged by soldiers. A crowd watched and cheered.

. . . for looking up women's dresses with a mirror!

A 37-year-old man was whipped in public after cops caught him looking up women's dresses with a small mirror that was taped to the toe of his shoe!

By HENRY WEBER in Islamabad

Majeed Kisat cried like a baby when Army punishment officer Aziz Khan hit him 99 times with a stiff wooden rod. The man's sobs drew cheers from a crowd of over 300 people who turned out to watch the whipping in Lahore, Pakistan.

They actually booed when the flogging was over and authorities led Kisat away. "He deserved everything he got and more," said Leha Sharif, one of dozens of women who were victimized by Kisat and his mirrored shoe.

"When I think of that awful man looking up my dress I get sick to my stomach. He had no right. I'm still humiliated and embarrassed." Police arrested Kisat after an off-duty officer caught him looking up dresses in a department store in downtown Lahore.

He didn't deny what he had been up to. In fact, he admitted that he had been using the mirror "with great success" since October 1988.

In that time he is believed to have victimized hundreds of unsuspecting women. According to police, more than 50 women stepped forward with complaints after they recognized a picture of Kisat that was published in a newspaper after his arrest.

He was charged with 22 counts of invasion of privacy and convicted in a Lahore court. Judge Akhtar Malik could have sent him to prison for ten years.

But Kisat had no previous criminal record so the judge ordered him to be flogged.

Prior to the whipping, Kisat apologized for his crimes and promised to seek psychiatric help.

"I don't know what got into me," he said.

Pint-size coffins are the last word for dead pets

Grieving pet owners can now send their dear, departed pets off in style — in caskets instead of shoeboxes.

The inexpensive critter coffins are manufactured by Bio-Pak Associates of Farmingdale, N.J., and come in two sizes. The small hamster-size box sells for $4.95, and the large rabbit-size box sells for $9.95. And each comes with a remembrance card.

The boxes and the cards have a space for the pet's name and date of death. And Douglas J. White, president of Bio-Pak, says that both are biodegradable.

The pet coffins will be available at many pet stores and by overnight delivery.

Michigan housewife gets message of hope from beyond the grave

DEAD CHILDREN TALK TO GRIEVING MOM!

By SUSAN JIMISON

Linda Jogwick's two children died five years ago, but she knows they're happy where they are — because they tell her so all the time.

Little Craig, 10, and Julie, 7, send their mom beautiful rainbows, birds and balloons. They talk to her in her dreams, appearing happy and radiating love.

"Their message is, 'Mom, we're all right,'" said Linda, 40, who lives in Novi, Mich.

"It's a comfort to know I'm not alone. They are giving me an inner peace. They are happier than I am."

Linda's two beautiful children died tragically in March 1984 when her estranged husband Eric committed suicide and took the little ones with him. Linda discovered the bodies of her family, who died when Eric piped carbon monoxide into their home from a car in the garage.

The heartbroken housewife says she doesn't think she could have faced life alone if it weren't for the loving messages from her son and daughter.

"I've gone on living for their sakes," Linda said. "They were always my comforters.

" 'Mom, it's going to be all right' — that's what they say to me."

The first sign her children sent her appeared a few weeks after their death. Linda and her mother were flying to Florida when suddenly a rainbow appeared over Linda's head.

"It was red and yellow and blue and green," Linda recalled. "My mother saw it first. She said, 'Linda, look!' It was exactly like the rainbows Julie used to draw.

"It was right over my head. It was unbelievable. I felt their presence and heard them laughing happily. I looked at my mom and she said, 'Julie and Craig.' Then we both started to cry."

Over the weeks and months since that first message, Linda has heard again and again from her dead children. When she visits their small graves, she is often visited by two birds who sing from a tree in the cemetery.

On a recent cruise in the Caribbean, Linda saw another pair of birds — two seagulls who flew near her in a dark night sky, looking at her and hovering near for 10 minutes before winging away into the darkness.

On her birthday, friends brought big bunches of balloons to Linda. When they let them go, most of the balloons signs from her beloved children that they were with her.

"And they appear to me in dreams, walking side by side," Linda said. "They always appear to be very happy.

"I feel they're together and that I'll see them again. Thanks to them, I am at peace."

HEARTBROKEN Linda Jogwick says Julie and Craig have told her in dreams, "Mom, it's going to be all right."

'Get out or I'll blow you away,' she tells him

"His eyes got as big as saucers when he saw my Smith & Wesson five-shot revolver," said the Saginaw, Mich., shop owner. "He turned tail and ran."

Miss Arndt, 39, was carrying a sack of groceries into her home when the man accosted her at the front door. She tried to push the door shut, but he grabbed her arm.

"I reached in my purse, grabbed my gun and put the barrel up against his nose.

"Get out or I'll blow you away," she warned. "I wanted to tell him in language I thought he would understand. And he DID get my message."

Her assailant bolted from the front porch and never looked back, she told police. "I'm surprised she didn't shoot him," said Police Lt. Robert Sugar, who knows Miss Arndt.

The tough shop owner doesn't consider herself a brave woman. "It was self-survival," she said. "I didn't want to shoot him, but I would have if I'd had to.

"I dropped the groceries when he grabbed my arm, but thank God my purse was still hanging from my shoulder. I could get to my gun."

Lt. Sugar said Miss Arndt had a permit to carry the gun because she's a store owner. "I certainly commend the lady for what she did," he told The NEWS.

"She would have been robbed or raped or worse if it weren't for her gun and her guts," said Lt. Sugar. "She was cool enough to keep her head and stand up to the guy."

Cops haven't caught the crook but have a good description of him. "He'll try it again and we'll nail him," said Lt. Sugar.

HERO Charlie Cherasa, right, visits his twin brother Chris in the hospital after Charlie saved him from drowning.

Hero, 7, saves his drowning brother

By DICK DONOVAN

Little Chris Cherasa was as good as dead after he waded into water way over his head. But his quick-thinking 7-year-old twin brother saved the day — by reaching out and pulling him to safety!

"I saw Chris in the water and he was just laying there," heroic brother Charlie said. "I was so scared. But I grabbed his arm and pulled him out of the water and laid him on the ground!"

That was all the gutsy second-grader could do for Chris, whose heart and breathing had stopped.

But it alerted 19-year-old Tracy McLean to Chris' life-threatening plight.

Tracy, a lifeguard at a recreation reservoir in Geauga County, Ohio, rushed to the boy's side and immediately began CPR. After about four minutes, Chris' pulse had returned and he was breathing on his own.

"No one knew that Chris was in trouble except Charlie," happy mom Roberta Cherasa told The NEWS.

"When I first saw Chris lying there, he was blue. I was terrified. I thought he was dead. I don't ever want to go through anything like that again."

Chris was rushed by ambulance to Geauga Memorial Hospital, then airlifted to Rainbow Babies and Children's Hospital in nearby Cleveland.

Two days later he was given a clean bill of health and allowed to go home.

Men are dying — for affection!

Men need more tender loving care from women or they're liable to kill themselves, says a new study by a specialist in sexual health.

An increase in suicides, sexual problems and harassment are signs of growing alienation and unhappiness among men.

Men need understanding and patience from women more than ever, Dr. Katherine Forrest said at a conference on sexuality in Guelph, Canada.

"Let's give men a fair chance to change," said Dr. Forrest, who added that men are confused by "mixed messages" from women.

Women are demanding more expressive, sensitive men and more skilled lovers. But some experts think this softer, gentler "new male" only exists in the early stages of courtship.

"While the new male may be a myth, what is not a myth is the distress males are feeling," she said.

Suicides among men 15 to 34 has increased sharply in recent years while the suicide rate among women has remained the same.

"Men are feeling really out of control. Both men and women are feeling angry," said Dr. Forrest. "They keep looking at each other and saying, 'Somehow this ought to get better.' But they don't know how to make it happen."

Cyclist sticks it to 100's of tires

Motorcycle courier John Orchard was fined $400 after 50,000 hypodermic needles fell from his cycle on a busy highway — and punctured the tires on 141 cars and trucks.

Police in West Bromwich, England, said the mishap caused more than $20,000 damage to passing autos.

Orchard, 18, was transporting needles for a medical supply company when the bag they were in fell from his cycle and split open, scattering the needles along the highway. He pleaded guilty of having an insecure load.

2,700-mile voyage is 'last hurrah' for 73-year-old retiree

Killer bug sinks old sailor's boyhood dream!

A DEADLY parasite killed Abbott Salter, left, as he was fulfilling a boyhood dream of cruising with his friend Sal Marasciullo aboard their 22-foot Chesapeake Bay workboat Anne B.

By DICK DONOVAN

A 6,000-mile sea odyssey came to a tragic end for two aging boyhood friends when the older of the two was struck down by an invisible killer — a parasite that poisoned his blood!

The dream journey for 73-year-old Abbott Salter and 67-year-old Sal Marasciullo began May 26 in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and ended 2,700 miles later in Yankeetown, Fla., when the microscopic killer invaded Salter's body.

"This was the last big hurrah for Ab," Marasciullo said a few days after his old friend's death. "But the best part of our trip was still to come."

The two men first met in 1938 when Abbott was Sal's scoutmaster. Through the years, the two kept in touch by mail and often visited each other.

In 1967, Abbott began planning a 6,000-mile boat trip that would take him up the Hudson River, across the Erie Canal into the Great Lakes, the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, and along the Intracoastal Waterway skirting the Gulf and Atlantic coasts.

After Sal's wife died of cancer in September the following year, he decided to join his old friend on his dream trip.

After spending a month preparing their 22-foot Chesapeake Bay workboat Anne B., the two adventurers set out from the Poughkeepsie Yacht Club.

"We never had an ounce of trouble," Sal recalled. "Ab was too good a sailor to let us get into trouble. It was very easy for us to get along. He was the captain and I was the mate. Whatever the captain said was it."

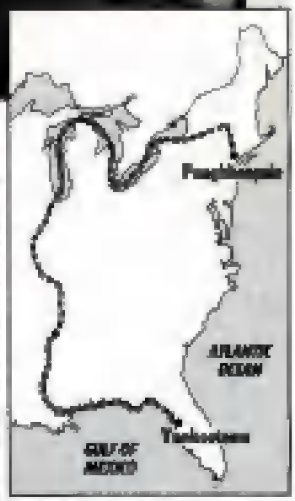
Then tragedy struck like a bolt out of the blue.

"I was getting dinner ready and Ab said, 'Gee, I feel a chill.'" Sal explained. "When he didn't relieve me at the helm, I knew something was wrong."

Sal checked his friend and discovered Ab had a 102-degree temperature. He dropped anchor in the Gulf off Yankeetown and radioed for help.

Another boat responded and escorted the Anne B. into port where an ambulance was waiting to rush Abbott to a hospital where he died 36 hours later. His killer was a saltwater parasite that had somehow entered his bloodstream.

The old seaman will be cremated and his ashes scattered on the Hudson River that he loved. "He died doing the thing he loved best," another friend said.



THE voyage that ended in tragedy took the pair of oldsters from Poughkeepsie, N.Y. to Yankeetown, Fla.

Burglary suspect coughs up 2 diamond rings!

After cops got a search warrant and found two diamond rings in a suspected thief's stomach — the guy swallowed hard and coughed them up!

Doctors were prepared to operate or pump R.C. Wright's stomach to recover the precious rings, but he said, "Wait a minute."

"He knew things weren't going to be all that comfortable for him anyway, so he decided to cough them up," said Wilkinsburg, Pa., Police Sgt. Dan Bearick.

After he gave himself up, the homeowner told police a half-carat diamond ring worth $800 and a smaller diamond ring worth $300 were missing, along with a .38 caliber revolver. Police surrounded it and ordered him to surrender, Bearick said.

ROLF ZAUSKE

Docs sew cyclist's head back on!

It was hanging by a thread after crash

Motorcyclist Rolf Zauske had his head cut off in a horrifying smashup with a tractor-trailer — but, incredibly, miracle docs sewed it back on again!

The 23-year-old youth was brought to the city hospital in Hannover, West Germany, with his head attached to his body only by his trachea and spinal cord.

But miraculously surgeon Michael Hebert Gaab and his colleagues reattached it and now Rolf is walking, talking and getting ready to go home.

"I'm happy to have accomplished an important breakthrough in medicine," said Dr. Gaab, whose work was a first in neurosurgery. "But above all I'm happy to have saved the life of this boy."

When the young man was brought into the emergency room he had a broken leg, a crushed hand, his skull had been smashed and his head was literally hanging by a thread.

"Still, in all this disaster there were some positive signs," Dr. Gaab recalled. "The boy was still living because his spinal cord and trachea had not been entirely cut.

"'I'll have to rebuild the top part of the spinal column, replacing the shattered vertebrae piece by piece,' I thought to myself. 'Maybe I should go ahead and try it.'"

Against the advice of colleagues, Dr. Gaab and a team of surgeons operated to stop Rolf's bleeding and reattach muscles and blood vessels — and six hours later he came out of surgery in good shape. He regained consciousness, but remained paralyzed, so three days later he went under the knife again.

In the second operation, Rolf's skull was reconstructed with metal plates and his head firmly attached to his neck vertebrae with transplanted bone and fragments of his shattered spinal column.

"I'll never forget his first words after he came to following the operation," Dr. Gaab said. "He said, 'I have faith that everything is going to come out O.K.'

"Since then he's made giant strides in recovering. He can speak normally now and has regained the use of his arms and legs. He's walking and there's good reason to believe that he will be perfectly normal in the future."

The grateful young auto worker says he's going to buy a new motorcycle.

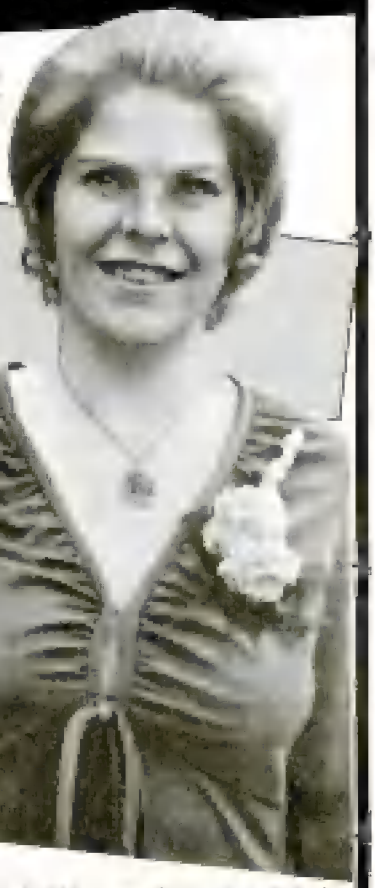
Comedy of terrors!

Harebrained lovers hatch black magic plot to knock off unsuspecting hubby



WIFE Helen Page has been sentenced to two years in prison for hiring hit man to kill her husband.

By JOE BERGER

Bumbling lovers Helen Page and John Peden tried to bump off Helen's hubby — by hiring a doddering old magician to put a death curse on him!

But the sinister scheme fell flat when self-styled sorcerer Basil Crouch turned out to be a money-hungry hoaxster who didn't know a curse from a can of beans — and didn't even believe in black magic.

So the crackpot couple hired a contract killer to murder unsuspecting hubby Robert Page. But that plot petered out when bungling hit man Ian Murrells was busted on other charges before he could swing into action.

"Fortunately for Mr. Page, this was a pretty clumsy crew," a detective told reporters in Chelmsford, England.

"These people really didn't know which end was up," he said.

The bizarre tale began when hot-blooded Helen, 38, began a passionate affair with Peden, telling her humiliated hubby his lovemaking no longer satisfied her.

Easygoing Robert went along with the fling until his wandering wife informed him she and her balding beau wanted to slip away on vacation together. And then he put his foot down.

"That's when they decided to do away with Mr. Page so they could be together," said Detective Alan Davis.

First they turned to the conniving Crouch, 81, who sold them a doll and a shovelful of "graveyard dirt" — which turned out to be ordinary soil from the make-believe magician's backyard garden.

The peabrained paramours stabbed the doll and covered it with dirt as instructed, but days passed and the intended victim didn't even come down with a cold.

The bogus sorcerer later testified against the kill-crazy couple, but a judge laughed the old fraud out of court.

"The sooner he flies back to Bristol on his broomstick, the better," joked Judge Peter Greenwood.

When the would-be witch doctor let them down, busty Helen and her lovestruck sweetie sought out hit man Murrells and offered him $7,500 to do away with her husband.

The contract killer planned to spread waste oil on a winding roadway traveled by Page, hoping the unsuspecting engineer would lose control of his car and die.

But the plot fizzled when Murrells was arrested on other charges and spilled the beans on his deadly employers.

Peden and Mrs. Page were convicted of conspiracy to murder and sentenced to two years in prison. Murrells, 31, pleaded guilty to the same charge and got 2½ years.

HUSBAND Robert Page had no idea his unfaithful wife was plotting his murder.

BOYFRIEND John Peden cooked up crackpot schemes with his paramour Helen.

Boozehound bites barking dog on the head!

Beer-guzzling grouch Shaun Desborough got so ticked off when a neighbor's barking dog kept him awake that he charged outside — and bit the hound on the head!

"My poor Patch didn't stand a chance in hell," said disgusted dog owner Susan Glew.

"He was tied up and defenseless when that madman ran over and bit him bloody.

"It was really outrageous."

A judge in Hull, England, fined short-tempered Shaun $320 for cruelty and assessed him $372 in court costs.

The 28-year-old tippler told the court the confrontation occurred when he went outside to calm the loudmouthed mutt after a night in the pubs.

He said he tried to loosen Patch's dog collar because he thought it was too tight, but the peeved pooch bit his hand and face.

Souped-up Shaun said he "flipped out" and sank his fangs into the dog's head. But the mongrel's mistress testified she looked out and saw her naughty neighbor stamping his feet and growling at the pooch.

Susan called the cops, and they found Shaun sitting in his kitchen — with blood dripping from his mouth.

Patrolman Kevin Bulless said he discovered bite marks over the dog's eye but saw no sign of a bite on Shaun's face.

Magistrate Andrew Clarkson ruled that the jug-bitten defendant had provoked the pooch and banned the boozehound from owning a dog for three years.

"Biting a dog is an animal sort of behavior," said the jolted judge.

CHARLES BROWNLEE

Lady luck runs out on lottery winner

He blew it all and now he's behind bars

By JACK ALEXANDER

It was a real rags to riches story when Charles Brownlee won a $380,565 lottery jackpot in 1986, but now he's penniless and in prison — for writing bad checks.

"Winning the lottery should have meant a new beginning in his life, but it ruined his life," said Brownlee's lawyer, Craig Kuhary.

"When someone dumps $380,565 in your lap, you forget what happened before that and start living in a fantasy world," he said.

Brownlee, 38, of Waukesha, Wis., was getting his life back together in the 1990s after battling a drug abuse problem and criminal record at an early age.

Then Brownlee's wildest dream came true when he hit the lottery and banked $380,565 after taxes. "He was like a kid in a candy store," said Kuhary.

Brownlee donated $80,000 to various charities, loaned $12,000 to a lawyer who was later disbarred and lost a $103,000 investment in a limousine service that eventually failed.

Despondent and disillusioned, Brownlee returned to drugs and crime. He was charged with bouncing checks in four Wisconsin counties.

"I accept full responsibility for my unacceptable behavior. I owe society a debt," he told Circuit Judge Roger Murphy.

Brownlee was convicted of four felony counts of issuing bad checks and pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge. He was sentenced to three years in prison and four years probation.

"This man is living proof that money doesn't always bring happiness," said Kuhary. "This is a Horatio Alger story in reverse — rags to riches to rags again."

Sex queen gets death threat

Sultry Asian beauty Pamella Bordes, branded a high-class call girl linked to a British government sex scandal, is under a death threat — from her own family. "We will shoot her if she returns home," declared one relative in New Delhi, India.

"We have nothing to do with her. We disown her."

The busty, raven-haired seductress went into hiding following the shocking disclosure that she is a call girl who bedded down with a British Cabinet minister, members of Parliament and newspaper editors.

No lemonade stands — kids now play dope dealer

By RUTH STEINER

Remember those lemonade stands kids used to have?

Well, they still have the sidewalk stands — but now they're setting up make-believe drug stands.

Cops discovered the playground stand in a Lebanon, Pa., neighborhood. Grass clippings were marijuana and sugar was cocaine.

"We just lost the war on drugs," said Police Capt. Bernie Reilly. "I don't care what Bush says, this is bad."

The kids had scrammed before police arrived, but left a ledger and a sample of their phony wares behind.

Made-up drug transactions were recorded in the ledger and on scraps of colored note paper.

One note read, "Cocaine, small half-baggie, 35 cents. small baggies, $1. A crude I.O.U. also was left behind.

Cops later questioned a 7-year-old boy and a 9-year-old girl about the fake drug stand even though they had broken no laws.

"I have no doubt they were copying their parents," said Det. Robert Bowman Jr. "They want to make a lot of money and not work."

"These kids were intelligent to set up something like this," said Police Chief Michael DeLeo. "It's a shame they can't use this kind of intelligence for better things."

HARDWORKING Bill Reasor was born in 1898 and could have retired years ago but the word isn't in his vocabulary.

Iceman still chips away — at 91!

By DICK DONOVAN

Husky Bill Reasor has been lugging ice on his broad shoulders for more than 45 years and he sees no reason why he should stop — even though he's 91!

He puts in a full day on the job and has no plans to retire

"There's no way I'm ever going to quit . . . not until the day I die," the veteran of two world wars told The NEWS. "It's the best thing I ever got into.

"I like people. I like talking to them. And I like getting out and getting around. It's good exercise and it gets me out of bed in the morning."

Ah, does he really hit the streets every day? At the age of 91? You bet he does.

In summer rains or winter snows, Bill is out there tooling his van along the streets of South Bend, Ind., delivering ice to restaurants, weddings, club gatherings and anywhere else where ice is needed.

"They don't call me by my name, they just call me 'The Iceman,'" the old Hoosier, born in 1898, said. "I used to deliver 2,000 pounds a day. I don't do near that much anymore, but I still hold my own."

Bill studied mechanical engineering at Notre Dame and graduated in 1925, the same year as the Fighting Irish's legendary Four Horsemen did after carving their niche in college football immortality.

After working a number of years for the Bendix Corp., Bill decided he wanted to get into something different. He opted for the ice business and he's never looked back.

"I just figured that if I could make money for someone else, I could make money for myself," he explained. "I got a good start by delivering ice to the crews building the Indiana Toll Road.

"My business took right off then and it's been going good ever since."

But the ice business and his 64-year-old wife Doris aren't Bill's only loves. His passion for college football — Notre Dame-style — is second to none.

"If I'm still alive, this year will be the 70th consecutive year that I haven't missed a Notre Dame home game," he said with pride.

Miami bandits need Spanish lessons

Spanish is now spoken so widely in Miami that even thieves have to be bilingual, say cops.

Three masked men found that out the hard way when they tried to rob a Miami restaurant, but couldn't communicate with the Spanish-speaking staff.

Detectives said the bandits stuck a gun to the chest of a kitchen worker and demanded to see the manager, but the terrified man could only reply in Spanish that he spoke no English.

Next the gunman grabbed a waiter who walked into the kitchen, but he didn't speak English either.

Finally they tried to talk to a waitress who happened into the kitchen, but she only spoke Spanish.

The masked men rummaged around looking for cash, but didn't find any and fled through the back door.

"Maybe these guys will go out and take Spanish lessons," said Detective Mike Hernandez.

Meet the nation's Number 1 commuter

SUPER commuter Richard Johnson leaves home at 3:30 every morning.

He drives 281 miles a day and he's never been late for work

Richard Johnson says he likes to drive, so he doesn't mind commuting to work — even though he covers 281 miles a day to do it!

By SUSAN JIMISON

The Lebanon, Tenn., man racks up an astounding 70,000 miles a year commuting to his job, enough to earn him the title of "No. 1 Commuter in the USA." He says he doesn't want to move because his wife has a good job in Lebanon.

So he drives halfway across the state to Oak Ridge — two hours and 20 minutes each way.

"I enjoy driving," he said. "And basically, the time I put in doesn't bother me. It's easier on me than ruining her career.

"I listen to the sports news and I enjoy that. The commuting time passes real quickly."

Johnson, 52, beat out 200 other competitors for the national title in a contest sponsored by Kraco, a California auto electronics company. He has commuted to his job for four years now and never gotten a ticket or arrived late for work.

The tool designer for a die casting products company, Johnson says he leaves home at 3:30 a.m. and returns about 6 p.m. He buys three sets of tires every two years and pays $40 a week for gas.

"I drive a 1988 Chevrolet Corsica," said Johnson. "It's a dependable car. But I only get it checked out about once a year. I figure if it isn't riding right, check it — otherwise leave it alone."

Johnson retired his last car with 175,000 miles on it and he also has a 1979 Grand Prix with 237,000 miles on it. He advises anyone who is considering a commute like his to exercise caution and patience.

As for the impact on his family life, the father of three grown children says his commuting is no problem at all.

"My wife and I make up for all the time we miss together on the weekends," he said. "Believe it or not, we spend our Saturdays and Sundays going for long drives together!"

Dog yanks girl to her death

A teenage girl out for a walk with her dog was killed when the pooch pulled her into the path of an oncoming car.

Cops in Charlotte, N.C., said 15-year-old Stacy Hensley and her dog were standing near the road when the dog suddenly bounded into the street. Stacy was dragged behind by the dog's leash that was wrapped around her wrist and pulled in front of a car.

Homosexuals can be cured, says ex-gay

Preacher goes straight and weds former lesbian

By JACK ALEXANDER

Homosexuals can be cured of their limp-wristed lifestyle by changing their outlook about themselves and the world, says a married preacher who was gay.

The Rev. Wayne Plumstead, a United Methodist minister from Jersey City, N.J., was a homosexual all his life until he became involved in an amazing philosophy called aesthetic realism.

Founded in 1941 by American poet Eli Siegel, the philosophy teaches people to like themselves and the world. Rev. Plumstead spent eight gruelling months with aesthetic realism counselors.

"It really set me straight," said Rev. Plumstead. "I never thought I'd find my body responding to a woman. I look at her in my arms and wonder how I ever lived without her."

The philosophy teaches you to look at everything in a different perspective, but you have to be honest in your sessions with the counselors, he said.

"It is difficult to explain how it works, but it works," said Rev. Plumstead. "My wife was gay until she embraced the same aesthetic realism philosophy."

New York writer Brent Buell also credits aesthetic realism with changing his life. He is a former homosexual who also is married now.

After six months of aesthetical realism sessions, he began looking at women in a romantic way. And the change is permanent.

"After six months, I knew I had changed," said Buell.

Rev. Plumstead and Buell say hundreds of homosexuals have been transformed into normal people because of aesthetic realism.

THE REV. Wayne Plumstead says he's no longer gay.

WRITER Brent Buell, an ex-gay, says he also was cured.

Teller returns $92G cops say she stole from bank

A guilty conscience apparently led a bank teller to return $92,700 she had walked out with just a week before, cops say.

Police in Bradenton, Fla., say Dianne Lamay, 40, entered the Manatee County Sheriff's Office and plunked down the suitcase stuffed with the stolen cash.

"She obviously knew there was an arrest warrant on her," said sheriff's spokesman Dave Bristow. "Maybe she felt guilty."

Police say Miss Lamay took the money from a branch of the First Commercial Bank in Bradenton's Desoto Square Mall, where she had been hired as a teller a month earlier.

Though Miss Lamay was fired from her job, bank President Bryce Hawkins hopes she won't have to go to prison.

"I don't think the girl is bad," Hawkins said. "I don't know what happened at that particular moment, but I don't think she would benefit by going to jail."

Diet Pills Sweeping U.S.

Doctors Invent 'Lazy Way' to Lose Weight

U.S. Gov't. Approves Patent Claims for New Diet Pill

BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special) —An amazing new weight loss pill called "fat-magnet" has recently been developed and perfected by two prominent doctors at a world famous hospital in Los Angeles that reportedly "guarantees" you steady fat loss and calorie reduction by simply using their tested and proven new pill.

The U.S. government has just approved the doctors claims for a hard-to-get patent that confirms "there has never been anything like their fat-bonding pill process before." It is a totally new major scientific breakthrough and is revolutionizing the weight loss industry.

You Can "Eat Normally"

Best of all, "you can continue to eat your favorite foods and you don't have to change your normal eating habits. You can start losing fat and reduce calories from the very first day, until you achieve the ideal weight you desire without exercising."

Flushes Fat Out of Body

The new pill is appropriately called the "fat-magnet" pill because it breaks into thousands of particles, each acting like a tiny magnet, "attracting" and trapping many times its size in undigested fat particles. Then, all the trapped fat and calories are naturally "flushed" right out of your body because they cannot be absorbed.

Within 2 days you should notice a change in the color of your stool, caused by the fat particles being eliminated.

"Automatically" Lose Fat

According to one of the inventors, Dr. William Shell, heart specialist and associate professor of medicine at UCLA medical school, "the new fat-bonding process is a "lazy way" to lose weight because the pills alone "automatically" reduce calories by eliminating dietary fat. It is 100% safe and not a drug."

The fat-magnet pills are already sweeping the country with glowing reports of weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slimmer, trimmer and more attractive again.

Now Available to the Public

If you are trying to lose 20, 50, 100 pounds or more, you can order your supply of these "no-risk" highly successful fat-magnet pills directly from the doctors' exclusive manufacturer only (includes optional calorie-reduction plan for even better results). Send $20 for a 90 pill supply (+$3 handling), or $35 for a 180 pill supply (+$3 handling), to: Fat-Magnet, 9086 Wilshire Blvd., Dept. WX77, Beverly Hills, CA 90211. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not 100% satisfied.) Visa, MasterCard and American Express OK. (Send card number, expire date, and signature.) GIANT HOBOSCOPE

By Countess Sophia Sabak

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

Health care matters need attention at the beginning of the week. A few telephone calls should solve the problem.

A troublesome person or situation could make Aries' children anxious during this period. Special attention and consideration will be needed to help them over this emotional hurdle.

Midweek finds you swamped with domestic duties, leaving a limited time to socialize. However, by the weekend you regain control.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Too much work and not enough play are making you a dull partner.

Reassess your priorities and discover ways to make changes before your sour attitude drives those who love you away.

Your pessimistic attitude is also hazardous to your health, Taurus.

Focusing on the good and beautiful aspects of your life carries with it a guarantee of a feeling of self-worth and well-being.

Look to one who loves you and is anxious to help.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20

The movement of celestial bodies dictates tumultuous days in the romance department.

Marrieds find their spouses acting cool and distant.

Avoid invading your loved one's space, and by midweek the atmosphere will return to normal, with the prospect for a happy weekend together.

Single? Avoid negative confrontations with your datemate by opting to retreat from the social scene for a few days.

CANCER
June 21-July 22

Problems early in the week can be solved easily if you can approach them calmly and rationally. Getting too emotional will hamper finding the answers.

Luck is in your corner at week's end. You may not have a specific item in mind to shop for, but a visit to a local auction or yard sale brings a real find.

Relationships with teens flow smoothly this week, and plans made and shared prove enjoyable.

Look for a present in the mail.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

The week begins with you having an abundance of energy, and accomplishing tasks quickly and easily.

However, a midweek slump slows you, and care should be taken when scheduling the remaining days in order to be ready to enjoy events over the weekend.

It's an excellent time to follow through on Leo's creative and artistic talents during this period.

A conversation with a stranger could introduce you to the love of your life.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Red is the dominant color for Virgos this week and something red will show you how to improve your finances.

You should prepare for a romantic encounter, one with the possibility of a long-term involvement.

Anger with an associate midweek may need a third party to intercede and solve the problem. Look to Cancer or Libra.

Be prepared with alternate weekend plans, as friends may be unable to keep prearranged engagement.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Repetition is causing your boredom with your surroundings and with those around you.

Put some spice back into your life by changing your pattern.

Drive to work by a new route, plan a trip, join a sports club, anything new and interesting and different from your present routine should get you out of the rut you find yourself in.

Someone who loves you is anxious to spend more time with you. Make a date and make them happy.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

A troubled period for those born under this sign.

Early on, poor money management and bad planning cause problems with your partner. Later, a frank and honest discussion, and coming to an agreement on common goals, clears the air.

A social occasion in midweek brings an introduction to an extremely interesting person with surprising results regarding your future.

A tranquil weekend lies ahead.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Dissatisfaction over work assignments shadows the week's beginning until coworkers offer sympathetic understanding. By midweek you are feeling more cooperative and cheerful.

Those morning coffee breaks shared with a business associate become an item of office gossip, causing trouble with your loved one. Beware of Taurus!

Single Sagittarians will be fun to be with this weekend, full of ideas and energy.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

An introduction to a VIP in your profession brings friendship and an opportunity for advancement. A work of caution, Capricorn, all is not as it seems. Look well before you leap.

The lunar position in your house of travel complicates plans for a getaway weekend with family members. Perhaps you would be wise to delay the excursion.

You blame another for problems in your romance department, but need to accept responsibility.

If your birthday is this week . . .

A rift between you and a longtime pal will occur later this year over a piece of equipment. Despite the silliness of the cause, the friendship will stay broken for years.

A new car figures prominently in the next few months. You may buy one or drive one you rent for a holiday.

Be on the lookout for a dog or small animal. The beast will cause you nothing but aggravation.

You will prosper with a windfall coming your way later this year. A career opportunity makes you restless with your current job.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

That romance you expected to develop into a lasting relationship is cooling. Your partner wants to remain just friends. Accept gracefully, Aquarius, as you have no control. The lunar position is dictating emotions at this time.

Midweek, one you considered a good friend betrays your confidence, causing hurt and angry feelings. Later you are able to forgive.

Patience is required over the weekend when problems with adolescent children arise.

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20

Cosmic movement suggests this is an advantageous time to plan a quiet interlude with your loved one.

Keep in mind that Pisces is a water sign and inflexibility on your part could extinguish the flame of romance.

A delightful development midweek for single Pisces, as a new love interest enters your life, with possible long-term involvement.

A flash of insight midweek helps you make that decision you've been putting off.

Man has 45 wives — but 15 say they'll dump him

. . . unless he buys them a new car!

By JOE BERGER

A henpecked pop music star is being sued for divorce by 15 of his 45 nagging wives — because he won't buy them a car!

The grumpy gals say they'll withdraw their divorce petition if singing sensation Obama Eaoma Juliot de Feu coughs up the loot for a new set of wheels.

"We're tired of having to walk to the market every day in all this heat," indignant Aloma de Feu, 24, told reporters in the African nation of Cameroon.

"We're married to one of the country's most famous men, and we want to go around in style."

But beleaguered Obama says he has to work his tail off just to feed, clothe and house his harem of demanding damsels.

Despite his star status, the weary warbler makes the equivalent of just $4,000 a year in his impoverished homeland.

"My women all eat like horses, and they all want jewelry and nice things to wear," said the flustered hubby.

"I try to do right by them, but the money doesn't always go far enough.

"I can't even afford a car for myself."

And Obama says buying his miffed mates a simple sedan would only add to the bickering in his wild and woolly household.

"There's no way they could all fit into an ordinary car, so they would all be fussing over who was going to ride and who wasn't," said the struggling star.

"I'm saving my money to buy them a bus, or at least a minibus. That is the only solution to my problem."

But in spite of his current marital misfortunes, the girl-crazy crooner — who's also supporting more than a dozen children — isn't down on matrimony. Don Juan Obama is currently engaged to 15 other lovestruck ladies — and plans to tie the knot with every one of them before the year is out.

"Why not?" he asks. "A man can't have too many wives, even if they sometimes give him trouble."

Fire extinguisher puts out blaze — by itself!

A fire extinguisher couldn't take the heat and burst, putting out a small blaze in a day care center.

"Unbelievable. Someone was watching over the building," said Miramar, Fla., Fire Lt. Ed Murray.

The extinguisher dangled from a nail above a table fan that short-circuited and caught fire. When it burst, chemicals sprayed the room and doused the blaze.

Coffin slip-up a grave mistake

A coffin was being carried to a grave when pallbearers dropped it — and pinned a cemetery superintendent to the ground.

Mourners gasped as the heavy solid oak casket was lifted off Fane Miles, 48, at a cemetery in Hastings, England.

Mrs. Miles suffered a serious back injury that forced her into retirement. She later sued the funeral home director and won a $34,000 out-of-court settlement.

Hardhearted bureaucrats deny handicap sticker to thalidomide victim

Armless cripple in fight with bigwigs over parking pass!

I'M not looking for sympathy, says spunky Alison Wright.

By JOE BERGER

Thalidomide victim Alison Wright was born with tiny stubs for arms. But despite her obvious deformity, peabrained bureaucrats have snatched away her handicapped parking pass — insisting she's not disabled!

Loss of the prized pass has turned every shopping trip into a heartrending ordeal for the Bognor Regis, England, woman. Because British supermarkets have no bag boys, she has to lug heavy sacks of groceries 400 yards through a busy parking lot with arms just eight inches long.

Spunky Alison, 27, has been locked in a battle to regain the coveted pass since bonehead officials took it away three years ago. But despite her hardships, the strong-willed secretary says she's not particularly courageous and is not looking for sympathy.

"Bravery is for people who have got a choice," she said. "I'm not brave because I've always been like this.

"To me, this is just normal life, and I'm trying to get on with it."

So you wanna be boss?

Test yourself and see if you have what it takes

Are you a leader? Have you developed the characteristics that make people turn to you for guidance? People who can inspire are urgently needed for management jobs in industry, commerce and the professional fields.

On the family level, it is important that your ways of handling your mate, children — and in-laws — are convincing, intelligent and beamed in the right direction. Test yourself with this quiz compiled by Jane Sherrod Singer, M.A., psychology and education, University of California. How do you score?

1. Glance at these lines of figures, giving yourself only 10 seconds. Which line, if the figures were added, would come to the largest sum? You will have to make an educated guess with this time limit.

A. 08360157
B. 5190035140
C. 41905014

2. Glance at these lines of letters, giving yourself only five seconds. Do not count, but estimate. Which line contains the greatest number of letters?

A. IGHWXKLEDC
B. EILFDHGFHFEI
C. UWVMNOWQMN

Answer the rest of these questions TRUE OR FALSE:

3. Directives from superiors should never be openly questioned.

4. Some people are not worth bothering with.

5. A man or woman in a top position should not delegate responsibilities.

6. Most people work better and produce more under criticism than praise.

7. True leaders do not need suggestions from workers.

8. The end justifies the means.

9. To operate effectively each day guarantees a successful future more than long-range planning.

10. It is a sign of weakness to confess your mistakes.

11. Good leaders will try to know the personal problems of those around them.

12. A sense of humor is a healthy, helpful attribute for leadership.

13. In a pinch, a good leader should be able and willing to do the tasks assigned to others.

14. Everyone should strive to be a leader.

15. It is desirable for the leader of a group to be older than the other members.

16. All decisions should be discussed democratically.

Answers

Answers given by the great majority of a large cross section of heads of departments in industry, business and finance, medicine, education and home management.

1. A (30)
2. B (12 letters)
3. False
4. False
5. False
6. False
7. False

10. False
11. True

16. False (There is no time for discussion if the building is burning.)

Scoring

Give yourself one point for each correct answer.

13-16 points: You are a natural leader with a rare "built-in instinct" for handling people. Unless you missed True-False statements 7 and 10, you are a secure person who is open to suggestions and criticism from others. You profit by comments.

7-12 points: This is not a leadership score. It could be that you are confusing dictatorial power for leadership qualities if you failed on the True-False statements. The first two questions tested your ability to make quick decisions, a quality often needed to top echelon levels.

0-6 points: You are cut out to be a follower. Listen carefully to others and follow their lead. Learn from those whom you admire. If everyone wanted to be leader, there would be "too many chiefs and not enough Indians." Good "followship" is highly valued.

Good news for taxpayers!

Honest politician quits — because he was getting paid for doing nothing!

In the world of politicians, Kevin O'Connor is unique. The county treasurer felt so guilty collecting a fat paycheck for doing nothing that he gave the taxpayers a break and eliminated his elected position.

The investment banker from Milwaukee, Wis., recommended his $42,517 a year position be done away with, confessing that it took just a few minutes a day to do the work.

"The only real contribution I could make in this situation," he said, "would be to expose this job for what it is. I can't justify being there. I feel like a parasite on the taxpayers."

O'Connor, 39, ran for his job as Milwaukee county treasurer on a platform that promised he'd turn it into a part-time job. He was elected by grateful taxpayers even though he never campaigned.

But when he took up his new duties, O'Connor was shocked at how little there was to do. He spent just 45 minutes a day signing papers. And he had a staff of 15 to help him.

When he opened the safe in the treasurer's office, he found bonding paper dated 1949, already signed by machine.

POLITICIAN Kevin O'Connor resigned from his cushy job as county treasurer.

Not long after he was elected, O'Connor went on vacation for a week. When he returned, not a single memo, not a scrap of paper waited for him on his

Eerie encounter 700 miles east of New York

HINDENBURG'S GHOST SIGHTED OVER THE ATLANTIC!

. . . for the second time in 3 years

By MICKEY McGUIRE

The pilot and crew of a charter jet flying from New York to Paris has reported an eerie encounter with the Hindenburg — the dirigible destroyed in a fiery explosion in 1937!

The jet's badly shaken pilot reported that he and his three-man crew maintained visual contact with the shimmering ghost ship for 11 minutes as it drifted aimlessly over the North Atlantic, 700 miles east of New York.

It's the second time in little more than three years that the ghost of the Hindenburg has been encountered over the Atlantic waters that it crossed for the last time more than a half-century ago.

At precisely 7:23 p.m., May 6, 1937, the great German airship exploded in flames as it docked at its mooring mast in a light rain at the U.S. Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N.J., killing 35 of the 97 people aboard.

That nightmarish tragedy spelled the end of the dirigible's use for transatlantic passenger service and the magnificent zeppelins faded into history.

But in an exclusive report in its issue of March 11, 1986, The NEWS reported that the cockpit crew of a New York-to-Rome cargo jet had sighted "a silvery cigar-shaped object" which they positively identified as the Hindenburg! And just three weeks ago, charter pilot Marc Hersant, in a sworn statement to French aviation officials, reported that he and his crew had encountered the Hindenburg in the same area where the 1986 sighting was made. "At first we thought it was a flying saucer or some kind of experimental aircraft," Capt. Hersant said. "It was night, but there was a good moon and as we got closer we could make out certain details.

"We could see very clearly that it was a dirigible . . . an enormous dirigible that could only have been the Hindenburg. After our first pass, we circled for another look.

"This time the identification was confirmed. It had a Nazi swastika on the tail and the number D-LZ129 on its side. That number was assigned by the German government to only one airship — the Hindenburg."

Hersant said he immediately tried to make radio contact with the FAA control tower in New York but got no response to his repeated calls.

"For some reason which I cannot explain, our radios were dead," the 51-year-old veteran pilot said. "They remained that way for about 15 minutes after we lost sight of the Hindenburg, then they resumed normal function."

Hersant said he, his copilot, engineer and navigator observed the spectral airship for slipped into the clouds and vanished.

"We cruised around the area where the Hindenburg should have emerged from the cloud," he said, "but we didn't see it. It just went into the cloud and stayed there. I have never believed in ghost ships, either on the sea or in the air. But I know what I saw that night . . . and what my crew saw."

Killer's smirk sparks courtroom free-for-all

By PETE COOKE

The grieving family of a murdered man wound up in custody after they attacked and beat the smirking killer as he was led from a courtroom!

"About the last thing I would want to do is punish the family of the deceased before the ink is dry on the paper sentencing his murderer," said Judge W. Douglas Albright following the brawl that broke out in his High Point, N.C., courtroom.

The melee erupted after Albright sentenced 17-year-old Jeffrey Tucker to 50 years for the murder of Donald Logan.

Members of the victim's family said they saw Tucker smirk as he was being led out of the courtroom by a bailiff. Brian Logan, the victim's brother, lunged for the killer, punching him in the face and dragging Tucker and the over chairs to get out of the way, Patricia Logan, the victim's mother, joined in the fracas, punching Tucker in the chest.

In a futile attempt to restore order, Judge Albright pounded his gavel so hard it dented his desk. Four police officers finally managed to break up the brawl.

Tucker, who was not seriously injured in the fight, had earlier pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the shooting death of Donald Logan, 32.

Authorities said Logan was riding his moped to work when Tucker and two other men challenged him to a fight. When Logan stopped he was shot several times.

Following a recess, Judge Albright found the victim's brother and mother in contempt of court. As the judge sentenced Brian Logan to 30 days in jail, Mrs. Logan collapsed on the floor. Her sentencing was delayed for about six
